CITY SHARES IN OPTIMISM THAT UPTURN'S NEAR

Business, Industrial Figures Still Unfavorable But Trend's Upward.

SLIGHT INCREASE NOTED

Hope 'Sales Mean Jobs' Drive May Provide Needed Impetus For Business Here.

The Mansfield area shared the nation's business and industrial optimism today as it began a new month that is expected to see the economic trend move upward again.

Although business and industrial figures still compared unfavorably with those of the first seven months of 1937, leaders in most industries forecast a "gradual upturn" during the remaining months of 1938.

Drive Opens Tuesday.

In Mansfield, the "Sales Mean Jobs" campaign, which has been successful in other cities, will open Tuesday and may provide the necessary impetus to bring back to normal, business leaders predicted.

Mansfield industries, notably the Westinghouse plant, have shown slight increases in operating activity during the past three weeks. Bank clearings, however, continued far below last year and building permits lagged, showing a marked clump in July as compared with the same month in 1937.

Bank Clearings Off.

Bank clearings for the first seven months of 1938 were $42,571,221, as compared with $63,042,816 for the same period last year, H. A. McElhaney, secretary of the Clearing House association, reported today. Clearings in July were $6,196,108, a decrease of $2,371,291 from the same month in 1937.

Although Mansfield building permits totaled $680,014 for the first seven months of this year as compared with $730,093 in a similar period of 1937, figures slumped from $104,610 in July, 1937, to $67,759 last month. New building here, however, is far ahead of most cities of comparable size in the state.

In the national picture, the American Federation of Labor predicted a return of business confidence.

"Firms which had contemplated wage cuts," the federation's report said, "will be more able to tide over the present difficult period without reducing wages."

It said the administration's

51 Stores Join in Semi-Annual 'Bargain Days'

Fifty-one Mansfield merchants will take part in the semi-annual Community Bargains Days sponsored by the Retail Merchants association, Wednesday and Thursday.

Bargains in all lines of merchandise will be offered by the participating forms, as summer stocks are being cleared out to make room for incoming fall merchandise.

This semi-annual merchandising event will be confined strictly to Wednesday and Thursday. An idea of what may be accomplished in the way of economy and thrift during "Bargain Days" is shown in a special section of today's News-Journal which will be distributed to more than 26,000 homes in the Mansfield shopping area.

Service Director Tracy Styert has extended the "no parking limit" courtesy to out-of-town shoppers. A courtesy blank appears in today's News-Journal, which may be pasted on the windshield to secure parking privileges.

Firms participating in this major shopping event will be designated by yellow and red signs in their windows.

AT COCOS ISLE

President to Spend Two Days Sail Fishing West of Panama.

ABOARD U. S. S. HOUSTON, COCOS ISLE—(By Naval radio)—President Roosevelt arrived at this tiny island, about 450 miles west of Panama, today for two days of sail fishing.

Making the president's third visit to these fishing grounds since he entered the White House, the Houston arrived here early in the morning after a cruise from San Salvador island of the Galapagos group.

Wednesday's 'Day of Days' for Soap Box Derby Racers

Wednesday will be the day of days for Mansfield youngsters.

It is the date of The News-Journal's second annual Soap Box Derby which will be run off on Sturges hill, between Glessner and Cline avenues, to determine a successor to Lester Griebling, 1937 champion, and a representative to the All-American Finals to be held in Akron in mid-August.

Enthusiasm now prevalent indicates a crowd of more than 10,000, which was on hand for last year's contest, will witness the 1938 coaster classic.

It is Mansfield's major unofficial holiday, and every precaution has been taken to make it a safe one.

The police department and state patrol will police the 950-foot course from one end to the other. Snow fence obtained from the state highway department will be erected to protect spectators as well as drivers and property adjoining the course. The Red Cross will have a mobile station at the track to administer whatever aid that may be necessary.

Starter Harold Burns' flag will drop for the first race at 2:30 p. m., and he will continue sending away drivers and their home-made racers in threesomes until the champions of each division have been determined.

Class B drivers, ranging between the ages of 9 and 12, will compete in their own class, while older boys will stage separate eliminations.

The two champions will then meet to determine the city championship, the winner of the Akron trip and a load of prizes.

Preliminaries for the big race got under way today with the assembly of the 70 odd cars at the Mohican Chevrolet company, which, with the Y. M. C. A., is a co-sponsor of the event.

The cars will be on display at the automobile agency until the time of the race, with the official weighing-in ceremonies scheduled for 9:30 a. m. Tuesday.

BLAST WRECKS CLEVELAND SHOP

Bomb Shatters Buildings; Damage Estimated at $200.

CLEVELAND — (INS) — A west side barber shop was wrecked, nearby residents were endangered and the windows in neighboring buildings were shattered early today by the explosion of a powder or dynamite bomb.

In the shop plaster was knocked loose, the plate glass window was shattered and porcelain on the sinks was cracked. Damage to the shop was estimated at $200.

The explosion broke windows in three stores, an apartment house, a frame house and an automobile parked nearby.

6 MORE GROUPS APPROVE BONDS

Endorse $550,000 Building Plan For City Schools Over Week-End.

Six more organizations put their stamp of approval on the Mansfield board of education's proposed $550,000 school bond issue over the week-end, Supt. W. L. Miller said today.

Endorsements came as the board and P. T. A. organizations speeded their campaign to gain a 65 per cent majority vote for the bond issue at the primary election Aug. 9.

Added to the list of Mansfield civic, fraternal and service organizations which have endorsed the board's building program were:

Mansfield Liederkranz, German society; Labor's Non-Partisan league; Atlas Lodge No. 190, Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin workers; Women's Label league; Richland County Workers Alliance; United Association of Journeymen Plumbers and Steam Fitters, and the Mansfield Junior Association of Commerce.

STUDY LETTERS

Police Hunt Murder Motive In Love Notes.

ALGONAC, Mich. — (AP) — The love letters and art works of Aujustus W. Roil, 45-year-old bachelor and gentleman farmer found slain yesterday, were scrutinized today by state police in an attempt to solve his killing.

Roil was injured fatally by blows over the head with a hoe handle. His body was found in a chicken house.

Trooper Melvin Will, who found a suitcase containing letters from women written in response to Roil's advertisement with a matrimonial agency, said every letter would be investigated.

Several oil paintings by Roil, an amateur artist, were examined by the police. Beneath a painting of a lovely brunet was the inscription, "My only books were women's looks and folly's all they taught me."

LUXURY TRAIN CRASH PUTS 38 IN HOSPITALS

Commodore Vanderbilt Rams Rear of Mercury; Three In Serious Condition.

BULLETIN

HOBART, Ind. — (INS) — Four women and one man were instantly killed today when their automobile was struck by the Broadway limited of the Pennsylvania railroad at a grade crossing here. The train was en route to Chicago from New York.

(By Associated Press)

TOLEDO—A crash of two New York Central luxury trains, the Mercury and the Commodore Vanderbilt, left 38 injured persons in hospitals today and others with minor hurts.

Three passengers were in serious condition. Sixteen were taken to Toledo hospitals, eight to Port Clinton and 14 to Cleveland. Dr. George A. Poe, aboard the Mercury, said he treated about 50 persons at the scene.

The seriously injured were: George Morris, 48, New York; L. M. Osborne, 46, Evanston, Ill.; Mrs. H. B. Haggerty, 46, Winnetka, Ill.

The Mercury, bound from Detroit to Cleveland, grazed an auto on a crossing at Rocky Ridge, 20 miles east of Toledo. The streamlined flyer backed up, as required by regulations, but the auto drove on.

Flags Down Vanderbilt.

Two miles behind roared the Vanderbilt, bound for New York. The Mercury's brakeman ran down the track flagging frantically. The Vanderbilt's engineer jammed on the brakes. On slippery rails, wet with rain, the 14-car speedster slowed down but slid on and on into the Mercury.

The trains literally bounced, witnesses said. Glass flew everywhere. The observation car and a coach were knocked off the rails.

Passengers were tossed about in both trains. Many were cut by glass.

Dr. Poe of Cleveland went to work on the victims. Autoists took as many of the injured as they could carry to Port Clinton and Toledo.

A special train was made up at Camp Perry, O., and took passengers to Cleveland. The second section of the Commodore Vanderbilt proceeded to New York.

B. C. Callon, engineer of the Vanderbilt, reported that his train slowed down but slid on slippery rails into the Mercury at about 10 to 25 miles an hour. The wreck occurred about 7:05 p. m. Sunday.

DEFIES ASSEMBLY

Judge Impounds Evidence for 'Little New Deal' Investigation.

HARRISBURG, Pa. — (UP) — Judge Paul N. Schaeffer, defying the state legislature, today impounded all evidence that has been assembled for a grand jury investigation of graft in the "little New Deal" administration of Gov. George H. Earle.

The Signs of Better Times

These are the signs that will lead to better times—they'll appear in all Mansfield business places participating in Mansfield's "Sales Mean Jobs" campaign, which opens tomorrow with a mass meeting in Central park at 7:30 p. m.

Two Rallies Tuesday To Launch City Sales Drive

Last-Minute Preparations Being Made Today for Start of 'Sales Mean Jobs' Campaign In Mansfield.

Last minute conferences and committee meetings were being held today prior to the opening tomorrow of Mansfield "Sales Mean Jobs" crusade. Because of the uncertainty of the weather it was announced that in case of rain tomorrow night the big public rally scheduled for Central park would be held in First English Lutheran church.

Two rallies are planned for tomorrow, the opening day of a month's campaign to rout depression and increase employment by getting money into circulation. The first will be attended by sales people in all lines of merchandising and will be held at the Madison theater at 8:30 a. m. The opening of stores in the shopping district will be delayed a half hour in the morning because of the meeting.

Public Rally at 7:30.

At 7:30 p. m. tomorrow a rally will be held at Central park for the general public and sales people. Dr. George Allison, president of the Edison Electric Institute, New York City, will address both meetings.

Decorating the downtown district for the campaign has been delayed because of the continued rains of the past few days, according to Richard Fensch, general chairman of the campaign.

Fensch said today that there were persistent rumors that an out-of-town promotion organization was brought here to stage the campaign. "No outsider has anything to do with the Mansfield 'Sales Mean Jobs' campaign," he said. "We are not even paying our speakers. They are sent to us from a national crusade headquarters. We have a small promotion fund, contributed by Mansfield merchants, and every penny of this is being used for promotion costs—banners, badges, street decorations and similar items."

DEAD IN TRAILER

Man, Woman and Suicide Notes Are Found.

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—The bodies of a man and woman, bullet wounds in their chests, were found today in a trailer at a camp near the Allegheny county airport.

Police identified them as Mrs. Ann Bowman, 28, and Henry Murray, 28, of suburban Homestead. Between their bodies lay a .32 calibre revolver with three empty shells.

On a dressing table of the trailer, County Policeman William Kessler found a note. It read:

"To whom it may concern: I did it. It's between us two only. Check enclosed for my sister to pay off car which she is to have along with trailer, and all I leave behind. Signed: Bowman."

"P. S. The things on the table are for me to wear the last time Ann Bowman."

Murray was shot twice in the chest and Mrs. Bowman once.

CALLS FOR HELP

Navy Yard Seeks Aid for 300 Fighting Forest Fire.

BREMERTON, Wash. — (U.P.) — The U. S. Puget Sound navy yard was asked for men and equipment today to aid 300 men fighting a forest fire which was sweeping toward Bremerton.

Driven by a high wind, the fire moved into the valuable forest area which protects the Bremerton water supply.

NO DEATHS IN 37 DAYS

COLUMBUS — (U.P.) — Columbus safety organizations pointed proudly today to the city's record of no traffic fatalities during July. The city has gone 37 consecutive days without a traffic death.

103 Indicted in Alcohol Tax Conspiracy Case in New York

(By United Press)

NEW YORK—Six New York policemen, one a sergeant, seven agents of the U. S. treasury department and 90 other persons were charged in federal grand jury indictments today with conspiracy to defraud the government of alcohol taxes.

The indictments, voted and sealed last week, were opened today. Assistant U. S. Attorney W. M. Dickerson, who with two special agents had worked 10 months to "break" the case, said the group was one of the largest ever indicted on such charges.

Eighty-six of the 103 persons were in custody. They were scheduled to be arraigned later today.

The indictments charged that they comprised a combine which maintained stills at various places in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania and shipped the finished product into New York City. They were alleged to have maintained 14 places in the Bronx, Brooklyn and Manhattan to which alcohol was trucked and sold at $15 per five-gallon can.

The alcohol was said to be of high quality and unusual strength. The federal tax would have been $19 per can.

The policemen were charged with receiving money to protect and escort the liquor to the designated establishments in New York.

'LITTLE STEEL'S' STRIKE COST SET AT 4 MILLIONS

Senate Committee Secretary Says 7,000 Were Mobilized To Fight Union Drive.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON—The 1937 "little steel" strike cost more than $4,144,000, including $141,000 for munitions and resulted in the mobilization of 7,000 persons as guards of various kinds, Secretary Robert Wohlforth of the senate civil liberties committee testified today.

Wohlforth said the mobilization of men, money and munitions in the conflict developing from the drive of John L. Lewis to organize all steel workers into one big union "has not been approached in the history of labor disputes in America in recent times."

He said that although data is incomplete, the civil liberties committee has assembled information showing that 7,000 men were directly employed as guards, patrolmen, deputy sheriffs, national guardsmen, city police and company police on strike duty.

Third Week of Hearing.

Wohlforth was called to testify as the committee began the third week of its current hearings which Chairman Robert M. La Follette, jr., P., Wis., said he expects to lead to recommendations at the next session of congress for changes in the Wagner labor law.

Wohlforth said $4,144,000 was directly expended by the Republic Steel corporation, Youngstown Sheet and Tube company, the Ohio National Guard, the Pennsylvania railroad and various towns and counties affected by the strike.

"The total cost of the strike," Wohlforth added, "cannot be presented in any definite dollars and cents terms, because many items, such as man hours of labor and depreciation of material, are not so measureable."

NORMA GIVES UP

Decides She Won't Take Role of Scarlett O'Hara.

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — The public never will know how many of its letter writers became indignant over the casting of Norma Shearer as Scarlett O'Hara.

The number was sufficient, anyway, to cause Miss Shearer to tell Producer David Selznick, as she announced yesterday, that she thought herself unsuited as the leading lady of his "Gone With the Wind."

Your guess as to who will replace Norma in Selznick's favor is as good as anyone's. Tallulah Bankhead may be in the running again. Many still like Katharine Hepburn and hundreds once voted for Margaret Sullavan. Incidentally, Clark Gable still is set for the role of Rhett Butler.

SPENDS $16,083

Bulkley Reports Cost of Campaign for Another Term.

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — Sen. Robert J. Bulkley, (D., O.) today reported to the senate campaign expenditures investigating committee that his campaign expenses totaled $16,083 — the largest amount thus far presented to the committee.

Thomas Coughlin, treasurer of Bulkley's campaign organization, reported contributions of $20,691.

RUSSIA MASSING TROOPS, GUNS AT BORDER POINTS

Planes Drop Bombs, Turn Machine Guns on Japanese, Tokyo Dispatches Say; Moscow Threatens to 'Wipe Japan Off Face of Earth.'

(By International News Service)

TOKYO—Quickly heeding Moscow's threat to "wipe Japan off the face of the earth," Soviet war planes today roared across the Siberian border and attacked Japanese military positions, according to Nipponese accounts.

Five Soviet planes were shot down, it was officially reported.

In speedy revenge for double defeats suffered in yesterday's pitched battles, the Soviet aircraft bombed the Changkufeng border district and then, flying low, "strafed" the Japanese and Manchukuo defenses with machine guns.

Wheeling southward, said semi-official advices, the Red army planes then raided Japanese positions within Korean territory.

With border "incidents" now developing into open warfare, while Moscow and Tokyo continue to spurn each other's diplomatic protests, more Soviet troops were massing on the Siberian-Manchu-Korean frontiers.

Eight hundred Red army soldiers, rushed up in motor trucks, were concentrated at Fatashi, according to advices from Seoul, Korea.

A Soviet artillery force, equipped with powerful long-range guns, was reported gathering at Karanchin.

So serious has the situation grown overnight that developments in the undeclared Russo-Japanese war were carried direct to Emperor Hirohito today by the war minister, Lieut. Gen. Seishiro Itagaki.

Following a conference with the navy and foreign ministers, Gen. Itagaki rushed to the emperor's seaside resort, Hayama, with Prince Kohohito Kanin, chief of the army general staff.

Soviets Repulsed, Claim.

A spokesman for the war office declared Soviet troops who staged two counter-attacks last night, attempting to capture lost ground, had been repulsed in sharp fighting.

The Russians, said the spokesman, left 30 dead on the battlefield. This number was believed to be in addition to about 250 previous casualties.

The Japanese-Manchukuo forces also captured two Russian tanks, it was asserted.

According to this announcement, the fighting began at 5 p. m. yesterday when 300 Russian cavalrymen and infantry troops advanced

2 HURT IN ONLY COUNTY MISHAP

Richland Without Serious Accident For 4th Week-End; State Traffic Kills 13.

One traffic accident in which two persons suffered injuries was the only mishap reported over the week-end as death took a holiday on Richland county highways.

Mansfield for the fourth consecutive week-end went without a single serious accident as 13 persons died in automobile crashes throughout the state.

A belated honeymoon trip resulted in the death of a Cuyahoga Falls woman when the machine in which she was riding with her husband collided with a train on U. S. route 224, near Attica, in nearby Seneca county.

In Richland county's lone accident, Francis Steele, 21, Shelby and Miss Martha Leapley, 19, Galion, suffered injuries yesterday afternoon when Steele's motorcycle collided with an automobile on route 61, two miles south of Plymouth

Steele and Miss Leapley, who was riding tandem, were taken to the Shelby Memorial hospital. Steele suffered a fractured arm and leg and skull injuries while Miss Leapley has a possible concussion of the brain. Hospital attaches said their condition was "fair."

Corporal Scott B. Radcliffe of the state highway patrol said Steele's motorcycle collided with

SUSPECT JAILED

Former Employe Arrested in Slaying of Ohio Bachelor.

HAMILTON — (AP) — Frank W. Clements, investigator for the Butler county prosecutor's office, said today that Lafe Williams, arrested shortly after midnight in Elwood, Ind., had confessed the slaying Saturday of Harry Graham, 65-year old bachelor.

Clements said a murder charge would be filed later against the man who until two weeks ago was employed on Graham's rural home. Robbery was the apparent motive, Clements said

Robinson Maps Defense for Malfeasance Charge Hearing

With formal charges of malfeasance in office filed against him at a meeting of the county school board Saturday, Boyd Robinson, county superintendent of schools, today mapped a defense to present at a hearing Aug. 27.

Charges, filed by four members of the Union rural (Franklin-Weller townships) board of education, claimed that Robinson allegedly usurped that board's authority in asking for a PWA grant for a new high school building without the permission of the Union board.

The five-member county board will conduct a public hearing on the charge Aug. 27. The hearing will be conducted at the courthouse, with Robinson and the accusing Union board members expected to present witnesses in their behalf.

Following Saturday's board meeting, members declined to comment on the action. Robinson was represented by Attys. A S Beach and J. V. Will.

Prosecutor Glenn W. Marriott, who investigated the Union board's charges against the superintendent, said he would serve only as an "adviser" during the hearing.

The five members of the county board are Floyd Hunt, Neil S. Robinson, C. G. Tugend, L. L. Rinehart and J. W. Snook.

Robinson is alleged to have signed an application for the PWA grant for a proposed $200,000 high school building, with the title of clerk of the Union rural board typed under his name.

Members of the board said they had never approved plans for a new building nor authorized a request for federal funds.

Robinson has said he signed the application but that the architect in charge typed the designation of clerk of the board under his name later.

CHARGES FRAUD

Auditor Cites Ohio Liquor Inspector In Report.

COLUMBUS—(U.P.)—State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson today made public a finding against Joseph Maiden, Jr., state liquor inspector in charge of the Canton district, charging him with defrauding the state of $115.70 in false expense accounts.

Ferguson recommended civil action against Maiden, who testified before the Ohio Senate graft investigating committee last winter.

Maiden was charged with making false entries on his expense account on five occasions and with presenting fraudulent hotel receipts.

The auditor recommended that Attorney General Herbert S. Duffy sue Maiden's bonding company to recover the money. He asked Duffy which county prosecuting attorney should be given the case.

HIGH WIND AND RAIN DAMAGES COUNTY CROPS

Storm Unroofs Farm Buildings North Of City; Cave-In Of Ditch Delays WPA Job.

A wind storm which struck the Mansfield area late Sunday as the climax to an all-day rain caused considerable crop damage and unroofed farm buildings in Franklin township north of Mansfield, farmers reported today.

Weather Observer Otto Sprunger said 2.23 inches of rain fell in Mansfield during the past 24 hours, the heaviest fall in months.

Rain fell throughout the day except for a brief spell during the afternoon. The wind which struck the area north of Mansfield, swept in from the southwest about 5:30 p. m. Corn was flattened, wheat and oats shocks blown down, and poultry houses unroofed.

In Mansfield, work on the WPA Woodland waterworks project will be delayed three days due to a cave-in of a ditch near the reservoir and the flooding of ditches, Service-Safety Director Tracy C. Styert said.

Water Shut-Off Delayed.

The delay will postpone the shutting off of water in the Woodland and South Boulevards area until Wednesday morning, to permit the connecting of a trunk line to the reservoir. Water was to have been turned off from 7 a. m. until noon Tuesday, James Herlihy, waterworks superintendent, said.

Cloudy skies with the possibility of more local showers tonight and Tuesday was forecast today by the weather bureau.

Damage caused by a miniature tornado along U. S. route 20, east of Elyria was estimated today at more than $1,300.

The sudden wind, coming near the end of an all-day rain, destroyed a small farm building, tore the roof from a barn, uprooted several trees and tore down power lines.

Traffic on route 20 was re-routed until the trees were cleared from the road.

URGES SPEED

Half Of All PWA Money Spent, Ickes Warns.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Administrator Ickes cautioned municipalities today against further delay in applying for public works projects.

Ickes, in a statement prepared before he left for a vacation tour of Alaska, said PWA had passed the billion-dollar mark (the halfway point) of the present program and that there might be very little money left for laggard applicants.

Ickes said 3,995 federal and non-federal projects had been approved. Their total construction cost will be $1,046,617,125, more than one-half the estimated at $1,800,000,000 of construction anticipated under the 1938 PWA act.

MRS. DAHL, ILL 10 YEARS, DIES

GARBERICH REUNION

Relatives were present from Toledo, Tiffin, Bucyrus, Crestline, Mansfield, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Galion and vicinity for the annual reunion of the Garberich families at Heise park, Sunday. Dinner was served to 40 in the shelter house at the park. It was decided to hold the 1939 reunion on the second Sunday in July at Heise park and the same officers were retained as follows: president, John Garberich of south of Galion; vice president, Fred Hesser of Crestline; secretary, Mrs. J. S. Boyd of Galion; treasurer, Mrs. Gertrude Garberich of Galion.

The annual reunion of the descendants of George Smith was held Sunday at the Mell Smith home in Johnsville. Thirty-eight relatives were present from Mansfield, Lexington, Galion and vicinity. The officers elected are: president, Kenneth Smith of Mansfield; vice president: Roy Smith of Johnsville; secretary - treasurer, Mrs. Albert Pester of Galion. Next year's reunion will be held at the William Sauerbrun home in Johnsville.

HIGHWAY PATROL OFFICER SHIFTED

Radcliffe Transferred To District Headquarters At Massillon.

Corporal Scott B. Radcliffe, in charge of the Mansfield station of the State Highway patrol for the past three years, was transferred to district patrol headquarters in Massillon today.

Radcliffe will be succeeded here by Corporal J. E. Ruch of Geneva.

Radcliffe came to Mansfield three years ago from Marion and had been in charge of the station here since that time. He was promoted to the rank of corporal about a year ago.

toward the heights of Shaotsoaping, in the disputed border region, under cover of an artillery barrage.

An hour later, the Nipponese army spokesman said, 1,800 Soviet troops tried to reoccupy both the Shaotsoaping heights and strategic Changkufeng hill, but again were repulsed by the combined Manchukuoan and Japanese troops guarding the border.

Seeking to throw entire blame for the clashes upon Moscow, the spokesman declared:

"We have no intention of violating Soviet territory, but we are quite prepared to defend the border."

Japan Must Pay, Moscow's Warning.

MOSCOW—(INS)—With threats that Japan would be "wiped off the face of the earth" and for every drop of Soviet blood spilled Japan would "pay in gallons," the red army today indicated that quick reprisals would be taken for the latest sanguinary "invasion" of Siberian soil

At a meeting of aroused Moscow workers, a grim message was dispatched to the Soviet guards killed in yesterday's two pitched fights near the Korean - Manchukuo frontier.

"Sleep quiet, dear brothers," it said. "We will remember your murders!"

Official accounts said Japanese-Manchukuo armed forces occupied Soviet territory to a depth of two and a half miles.

"The time will come," continued the Moscow workers' message, "when for every drop of blood lost by the Soviet border guards they (the Japanese) will pay in gallons."

Chinese Repulse Jap March on Hankow.

SHANGHAI — (U.P.) — Chinese forces under Gen. Chen Cheng appeared today to have halted the Japanese march on Hankow and to have occupied important positions.

Chinese dispatches asserted that General Chen was directing a counter-offensive which had pushed back the Japanese front lines.

The Chinese were said to have re-occupied a semi-circular front near Kiukiang, 135 miles southeast of Hankow, and to have retaken the towns of Samoushan and Chiaotsun. In battles for these towns, the dispatches asserted, more than 2,000 Japanese were killed or wounded.

The Japanese confirmed that the Chinese were on the offensive, but claimed they were suffering heavy casualties.

East of Hukow, the Chinese claimed to have cut all Japanese communications and said their planes had scored many hits on Japanese warships in the Yangtse there.

FORMER GALION WOMAN STRICKEN

GALION—Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. W. G. Palmer, which occurred Friday at Seattle, Wash. Mrs. Palmer was an aunt of Mrs. J. A. Jenkins and was the former Margaret Wineland of Galion. She left here a number of years ago to make her home in the west.

She was graduated from Galion high school in 1888, and when she lived here was employed as a stenographer at the E. M. Freese and Co. A sister, Miss Maud Wineland of Seattle, survives.

ACT ON FAIR

SHELBY—Whether or not the Shelby Street fair, Sept. 7, 8, 9 and 10, will be staged on Main street as in the past will be determined at tonight's meeting of city council. COUNCIL TO GET 'GIFT' PETITION

Request Of Gas Dealers To Amend Gambling Ordinance On Docket Tomorrow.

A request from the Gasoline Retailers' association of Richland county seeking an amendment to the city's gambling ordinance, and aimed at filling station "gift awards" will come before city council at its regular session tomorrow night.

The petition bearing the signatures of 45 filling station operators, asks council to amend the gambling ordinance by prohibiting lotteries within the municipality. It seeks to make it unlawful for any person to participate in a gift award by chance or to give or receive such an award in connection with any wholesale or retail business, including theaters and clubs.

An association spokesman two days after the petition had been filed said that a movement had been started by association officials to have the request withdrawn on the basis that it had been the association's intentions to ask council to legislate against filling station gift awards only.

Besides numerous petitions on file with Council Clerk William J. Beer jr., council also will be asked to consider the purchase of a mobile air compressor for use in the street and water department.

The legislation asks that Service-Safety Director Tracy C. Styert be authorized to enter into a contract for the purchase of the machine from funds earmarked for rental of the equipment on the Woodland water improvement.

COURT NEWS OF NEARBY COUNTIES

Crawford County.

Probate court: Accounts filed in the estates of Charles Gallinger, Joseph Niedemeier and George Webber. Inventory and appraisement filed in the estate of Martin Fry. Motion for removal of Lucille Hertzer as administratrix of the estate of Caroline Gettman filed by Ernest G. Gettman, one of the heirs. Twelve reasons are listed in the motion.

Application for a marriage license filed by Charles M. Stoneman, 24, Marion, painter, son of Roy and Bertha Stoneman, and Naomi L. Hart, 18, Bucyrus, clerk, daughter of Ralph and Goldie Hart.

Common pleas court: Suit filed by Ora B. Chapman, director of the state department of industrial relations, as trustee for Leona Brayton and Elsie Hern, against Jennie R. and Dolad W. Love, doing business as the Love restaurant. Chapman asks judgment of $85 92 for Mrs. Brayton and $81 12 for Mrs Hern, charging that the two plaintiffs have that sum due according to regulations of the minimum wage division of the state department of industrial relations.

LIGHTS BACK ON

Fire Hits Plant While Firemen Attend Benefit Carnival.

FINDLAY—(INS)—The nearby village of Deshler worked to restore electric service today after a fire closed the municipal light plant while firemen were being feted at a carnival to raise funds for new uniforms.

The blaze was started by oil dropping on the exhaust pipe of a Deisel engine, firemen said.

BOND ISSUE ELECTION

Notice is hereby given that on Tuesday, Aug 9 1938 the electors of the Mansfield City School District, Richland County Ohio, will vote on a Bond Issue of Five Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars ($550 000) for the purpose of financing the construction of Two Junior High School Buildings together with the necessary equipment and purchase of additional land for one of these buildings, namely the John Simpson Junior High School, and erection of a one story shop building at the Senior High School together with all necessary equipment and for the modernization of various elementary school buildings together with the necessary equipment in said School District in addition to funds received from a Federal Grant. ATTENDANCE OFF

Playground Figures Drop For First Time This Season.

Attendance at Mansfield playgrounds last week failed to show an increase for the first time since the grounds opened six weeks ago for the summer, Al Fendrick, playground director, reported today.

Activities at the grounds last week drew a total attendance of 19,779, a drop of 1,474 over the fifth week's attendance of 21,253, which set a new attendance record for the year.

Last week's attendance however was an increase of 10,871 over figures for the period last year.

AWAIT WORD ON 2 WPA GRANTS

Ashland City And Schools Set To Go Ahead On Projects When Funds Are OK'd.

ASHLAND—Approval of PWA grants on two major projects for which applications have been filed are being awaited by city and school officials.

Mayor W. Art Mason has had no definite information regarding the proposed sewage disposal system grant since the application was filed with PWA. A grant of $135,000 on the $300,000 project has been asked by the city.

Approval of the school board's application for a grant of $53,000 from the government to be used with local funds to build additions to Lincoln and Pleasant street schools and Central high school building is expected by school officials.

As soon as the grant has been approved, the board is ready to advertise for bids, Supt. J. E. Bohn stated.

TRADERS STAND ASIDE AS LIST DRIFTS LOWER

Confidence Created In Stability of New Quotations In Steel Group.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—A slow downward drift enveloped the stock market today, with leaders slipping fractions to more than a point. Bonds and commodities displayed uneven trends.

Brokers, generally, saw nothing in the news to alter the optimistic business outlook but many traders, as the result of last week's set-back in the stock list, were inclined to stand aside.

On the recovery side of the market was the moderately cheerful survey of the magazine ""Steel" which said that while consumers in general had not been disposed to order far beyond early needs, more confidence had been created in the stability of new quotations and there was less hesitancy to restrict purchases unduly.

The automobile industry, it was added, is counted on to lead the way to better steel booking later this quarter.

The publication advanced the thought that "in the event producers are unable to reduce labor costs, or to increase their business sufficiently to eliminate present losses, prices subsequently may be advanced."

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO—(AP)—(U. S. D. of A.)—Today saw the close of another week of healthy prices on all livestock. The closing undertone, however, was weak on hogs and lambs and trade belief here was that top hogs will soon fall below $10.00. After an advance early in the week fat lambs sold off only choice and prime fed steers held fully steady, prime heavy topping at $13.00. The government estimates the largest fat lamb crop on record.

Hogs: Receipts, 2,000, including 1,800 direct; salable supply too small to make a well-defined market; no strictly choice light hogs available; few scattered lots medium to good light weights $9.00-9.60; $9.60 paid; $10.00 quotable; shippers took none; 500 holdovers; compared week ago good and choice 160-250 lbs. 10c to 15c lower; heavy butchers and packing sows 10c to 15c higher.

Cattle: Receipts, 400; calves 100; compared Friday last week, strictly good, choice and price steers with weight steady to weak; all grades yearlings about steady, active, but common, medium and ordinarily good steers barely steady to 25c lower; largely steer run with fed kinds predominating; hence, grassers still very scarce; all heifers strong; cows steady; bulls steady to strong, and vealers 50c to 75c higher; very liveral contingent fed steers and yearlings $11.00 upward; numerous loads steers above $12.00; extreme top $13.00; next highest price $12.85; 1568 lbs. $12.60; long yearlings $12.50; light yearlings $12.35; heifer yearlings $11.50; light heifers $11.25; average cost all killink steers for week around $10.90, most medium southwest grassers selling at $8.75 down; with best active and southwest heavy grassers up to $10.25 and heavy grassers up to $10.25 and heavy shortfeds to $11.50.

Sheep: Receipts, 6,000 including 6,000 direct; for week ended Friday, 13,100 directs; compared Friday last week, spring lambs strong to 25c higher; yearlings 25c to 50c up, sheep steady. Week's spring lamb top $9.70 paid for choice 84-lb Washingtons to small killers, westerns to packers and natives to all interests as high as $9.60, bulk westerns $8.75-9.25, natives $9.00-9.40, no choice westerns available and no natives good enough to pass $9.50 at close, top 102-lb dyed slaughter yearlings $8.25, bulk $6.00-7.60; lightweight slaughter ewes $3.75, bulk $3.25-3.50 closing bulk 77-pound Oregon and Washington feeding lambs $7.85.

BUCYRUS LIVESTOCK

CITY SHARES IN U. S. OPTIMISM

Business, Industrial Figures Still Unfavorable, But Trend's Upward.

"pump-priming" program came at strategic time.

The Federal Reserve bank of Cleveland reported that the third week of July brought signs that business had "improved slightly from the depressed condition which prevailed during most of the year to date."

The retail trade field showed the most favorable signs, while the steel industry led the industrial field in imporvement, the bank's figures showed.

Reporting the national steel-making rate at the highest point since last November, the magazine "Steel" said recovery in the industry in the next month or two will be "gradual at the best."

Steel production increased one point to 37 per cent last week, with Cleveland operations at 23 per cent; Pittsburgh at 29 per cent and Youngstown at 38 per cent. Increased for the week ranged from two points at Pittsburgh to six points at St. Louis.

The Associated Press index of industrial activity listed business at the highest point since late in January. Residential building increases helped the figures, it said. In Mansfield, 11 new residence permits were issued in July, 1938, as compared with 12 for the same month last year.

The stock market a week ago reached a new high since the break last October.

An improvement in employment, ranging from one per cent in Columbus, Dayton and Toledo, to seven per cent in Canton, was reported for June by Ohio State university's bureau of industrial research. June employment in the state, however, was 22 per cent under figures for June a year ago.

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. SHARROCK

Former Galion Resident Succumbs After Short Illness.

Mrs. Frances Sharrock, 45, of 116 Blanch street, died at the home Sunday after an illness of several weeks. She was born in Galion, April 1, 1893, and came to Mansfield five years ago.

Her husband, U. E. Sharrock; two sons, Lester and Harmon of Mansfield; a brother, L. R. Fox of Chicago, and two sisters, Mrs. Edward Gallis of Chicago and Mrs. Robert Behrend of Junction City, Kan., survive.

The body was removed to the Wappner funeral home where private services will be held at 10 a. m. Tuesday with Rev. G. E. Swoyer of the First Lutheran church officiating. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

Bellville

ENTERTAINS AT HOME

Mrs. William Joiner entertained representatives and manager of the Buckley district of Luziers', Inc., Friday evening at her home. The evening was spent discussing various problems in each territory.

Guests were seated at a long table set with flowers and lighted tapers with miniature sprays as favors.

Those present were: Mrs. Earl Etzwiler and Della Buckley of Mansfield, Mrs. Freda Boyer of Ashland; Mrs. Wallace Yerian of Mt. Vernon and Mrs. Naomi Sorgen and the hostess, Mrs. William Joiner.

STATION ROBBED

SHELBY—Six dollars in change and merchandise valued at more than $100 were stolen from the Jack Love filling station, West Whitney avenue, the owner reported to police Sunday. The robbery was believed to have been committed early Sunday. Entrance to the building was gained through a rear window.

GET TRY-OUTS

BUCYRUS—Three Bucyrus ball players left Bucyrus today for the Red Birds training school at Red Bird stadium, Columbus, where they will remain for four days while they are looked over by officials of the club.

Those making the trip are Bob Brown, Bob Mack and Al Reece, all players on local teams.

THEATER

JOE BROWN will blossom out as a singer in "The Gladiator," a football picture in which he will sing about Victory. . . . Lanny Ross is working in "The Lady Objects" at the Columbia lot. . . . Columbia, which always makes one or two smash hits a year, is now concentrating time and money on the screen version of "You Can't Take It With You" in which Lionel Barrymore will play the philosophical grandpa. . . . The son of Doris Kenyon and the late Milton Sills saw a movie of his father for the first time the other day in the re-issue of "The Sea Hawk." . . . Edward Arnold, who is pinch hitting on the Charlie McCarthy Sunday night radio program for Don Ameche who is vacationing in Europe, also has a role in "You Can't Take It With You" . . .

Nugent Directs Lloyd.

Elliot Nugent, former stage player who appeared in Mansfield a number of years ago in "The Poor Nut," and who established himself as an ace director with "College Scandal" and "Wives Never Know," handled the megaphone for Harold Lloyd's "Professor Beware," which is the Madison theater attraction for the first half of the week. As in all of Lloyd's comedies in recent years, he introduces an unknown as his leading lady. If Phyllis Welch follows the Lloyd tradition, she will marry very soon and leave the screen—all of the others have Lionel Stander brings his frog-voice comedy to the role of hobo whom Lloyd meets on his screwy cross-country jaunt in search of a job. Everything happens on that trip and everything is pretty serious to the hero but funny to the audience.

* * *

Dopey In Person.

An interesting sidelight on the cast of "Little Miss Broadway" in which Shirley Temple flashes her charm and talent is that the original of Dopey is one of the players. Eddie Collins, old time variety artist who was noted for his funny faces, was used by the Walt Disney Studios to pose as Dopey in the Seven Dwarfs. Little Miss Temple was so captivated with Dopey in the Snow White picture, that when she heard there was a human prototype, she begged to have him in her next picture, which was the current "Little Miss Broadway." Collins is one of the broken down actors in an actors' hotel in the story. The dancing of George Murphy, one of the best of the screen hoofers, is a noteworthy feature of the film, which is at the Ohio.

"Penrod" Holds Over.

Just before going away on a week-end holiday with her fiance, a nurse is deeply affected by the death of a woman in childbirth and the tragedy of the husband whom she tries to comfort. This incident not only overshadows the holiday, but, on a mental telepathic hunch, the nurse rushes back to London and straight into the arms of a new romance. The story is told in "3 On a Week End," an English-made picture which is presented at the Majestic through Wednesday. The regular policy of the theater of changing pictures on Tuesday will be abandoned this week because of the second feature, "Penrod's Double Trouble" in which the Mauch twins, Billy and Bobby are co-starred. The identical twins are seen in a humorous and exciting episode in the life of Penrod, Booth Tarkington's famous youngster.

Ritz Shows "Hurricane."

"The Hurricane" returns to Mansfield tomorrow for a three-day showing at the Ritz theater. This is the South Sea island story in which the sensationally realistic hurricane, one of the photographic feats of modern screen history, is shown. Jon Hall and Dorothy Lamour are seen in the roles of the native lovers who are cruelly separated by his imprisonment soon after their marriage. Few pictures of recent years have attained the dramatic suspense that has been built up in "The Hurrican." It is the story, in retrospect, of a lovely tropical island that is wiped off the map, with most of its inhabitants, during a storm. The second film is "Little Miss Roughneck" with Edith Fellows and Leo Carrillo.

Ohio Candidates Turn on Steam for Last Full Week

FAIR ENOUGH!

Maverick of Texas Tells How He Lost Mandate Of People of His State

—By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK—All cock-eyes, as left-wingers are called in the baseball business, will be bound to recognize that Paul Kilday, of Texas, has received a mandate from the people of his district to give them right-wing service in congress. Our cock-eyes have been insisting that when the people elect a man they give him a mandate.

The people elected Mr. Kilday over Maury Maverick, the left-wing incumbent who had received the blessing of the administration and very substantial financial assistance as well. Paul Mallon reports from Washington that one week before Maverick went to the post against Kilday the housing administration allotted $3,588,000 for slum clearance in the foreign section of San Antonio.

* * *

The defeated statesman reports in his own story of the campaign that this section voted for him, although such precincts usually were carried by the machine. He means, of course, the opposition machine, it being understood that the New Deal is not a machine but is composed of starry-eyed, altruistic patriots in politics with no notion of organization. He carried the Mexican and Latin-American vote, usually controlled by the machine with its sordid politics, coercion and bribery, after the New Deal had tossed in $3,588,000 to buy these constituents new homes.

* * *

On the other hand, the degraded Americans of the silk-stockings precincts who used to support Maverick voted against him this time, and he explains that these rather inferior people—the American Americans, as distinguished from the admirable Mexicans and Latin Americans—were too stupid to consider the issues.

Not a single national issue was discussed, he relates, and the American Americans, the ignorant cattle who live outside the foreign slums turned on him to outvote the superior, intelligent patriots of the Mexican and Latin-American sections. These idealists were influenced by neither the $3,588,000 nor the inflammatory orations of a Mexican woman communist orator doing her bit for democracy in San Antonio, although Maverick says that "she really raised a big ruckus."

"All of which," says Maverick in conclusion, "brings to my mind that the decent-thinking people of this country," including, of course, the Mexicans and Latin Americans and, in New York, the Puerto Ricans and Russians, "had better get red-hot for the liberals who still have races."

* * *

Mr. Maverick puts the silk-stocking Americans, with their low American social and moral standards, outside the class of decent-thinking citizens, such as his Mexicans and Latin Americans, and perhaps he has them right. He is a Texan and should know his own neighbors and whether they think decently or not. But however indecent their thinking, it will have to be admitted that they have the right to vote and that when their votes elect an opponent of Maverick that opponent acquires a mandate.

* * *

The problem plainly is one of education. The American Americans have a high resistance to the superior ideals and political standards of the Mexicans and Latin Americans of the San Antonio slums and, unlike the Mexican and Latin Americans, they have a low resistance to bribery.

Mr. Maverick says the right wing, or anti-cock-eye organization, spent more money than had ever before been used in a southern congressional campaign, which would argue that their slush fund topped $3,588,000—an excessive price for one seat in congress.

* * *

All this is terrible, but we have to be patient and let such people go to the polls and suffer occasional setbacks when their mass ignorance and opposition are aroused and they nullify the enlightened vote of their betters. And Maverick will annoy only such non-Mexican, non-Latin-American and non-radical trash and stiffen their opposition to progress and reform by public assertions that opposition to the New Deal in any quarter is evidence of indecent citizenship.

He refers to Roosevelt-haters among them, which is a loose term, tinged with an assumption that it has somehow become despicable and un-American, if not, indeed, ground for disqualification at the polls, to oppose President Roosevelt's policies and methods. Yet, he says, they "kept mum as oysters," giving us to believe that, as in Germany, anyone who keeps mum and does not "heil" the leader thereby expresses hatred for him and does not deserve well.

The Mexicans and Latin Americans of Maverick's following will have another chance two years hence to hand a mandate to a candidate committed to the proposition that the American Americans of the district cannot think decently.

BASE HOPES OF ABSENCE OF ANY PLANE DEBRIS

Oil Spot on Ocean Still Only Clue In Search for Ship With 15 Aboard.

(By International News Service)

MANILA, P. I.—Pinning their fading hopes upon the fact no wreckage was found at an oil spot discovered on the waters of the Pacific, army and navy craft today doggedly continued their search of the Philippine coastline for the Hawaii Clipper, which vanished Friday with 15 persons aboard.

Although most aviation experts believed the huge oil slick found 525 miles southeast of Manila, at almost exactly the point where the clipper last radioed its position, marked the ocean grave of the big flying boat and its occupants, Pan American Airways officials still expressed faint hopes for the ship's safety.

Film Fading When Found.

They pointed out that the army transport Meigs, which found the oil spot, had radioed that the oil film was fading away rapidly when last sighted. This, they declared, indicated there was no wreck underneath it. If the 26-ton ship had gone to the bottom, they asserted, it would continue to send oil dribbles to the surface for many days.

The hunt today centered between the oil spot and the coast of southern Luzon island. The Meigs and four navy destroyers were zig-zagging slowly westward from where the oil was found. Other warships and six army planes scoured the ocean area south of Samar island, most easterly of the Philippine islands, while four navy amphibians and private aircraft combed island shorelines.

From the spot given in the last radio message that came from the giant flying boat at 12:09 p. m. Friday, Manila time (11:09 a .m. Friday, EST), the sea craft and planes have conducted a systematic search. They followed the general course that Capt. Leo Terletzky and his crew would have been expected to travel toward the Philippine coast.

Up and Down THE STREET

Nick White, Chevy Chase road, has always been under the impression that he could make money disappear as fast as any one, but he met his superior the other night. White and a party of friends were at the Hollenden hotel, Cleveland, where a magician was an entertainment feature. The magician asked Nick to help him with his stunts and one of them was to hold a roll of 50 $1 bills firmly in one uplifted hand. Nick clutched it, the magician threw a handkerchief over his hand, and whish-h-h! the money was gone. Since it belonged to patrons in the room, Nick was a bit embarrassed, but the magician came to the rescue by pulling a lemon out of his pocket with the identical 50 bills in the center of it.

Golfers are a hearty lot. No storm, no rain, no snow can stop 'em. During yesterday's almost steady downpour while non-golfers were content to remain at home, a number of golfing enthusiasts were seen at play on Mansfield courses. Many others started during the brief lull in the afternoon, but quit when the rain resumed. Among those whom rain would not discourage were John Foltz, Harry Fay and Ernie Geiger, who played right through the heaviest part of the rain without blinking an eye. It is hardly necessary to add they were drenched.

Boy Scouts in Mansfield and surrounding towns are taking a greater interest in camping and outdoor life judging from the registrations for their summer camping period now in session. According to Floyd Dent, area scout executive, the camp is one of the largest the area has ever had with a total of 224 boys, a new record, registered for the four one-week sessions this year.

* * *

A lot of Mansfielders are taking this "Sales Mean Jobs" campaign to heart, but one interested man almost took it to his stomach the other night. He went to a movie with a pocketful of peppermint lozengers and sat quietly munching them throughout the show. He popped one into his mouth that instantly registered "different." It was thin and extremely tough. When he took it out he found it was one of the celluloid buttons that advertise "Sales Mean Jobs" crusade opens in Mansfield tomorrow.

Saturday was a big day for A. A. Shafer, Bellville funeral director and chairman of the bridge dedication committee, who has worked for several years to get a new bridge for his home town. When he introduced Ralph Lutz, Richland county representative, at the dedication program Saturday, Shafer told the audience Lutz represented the county at Washington. He quickly corrected his error, however, by saying: "He's big enough to go to Washington, anyway, and that's with apologies to Congressman Ashbrook." The congressman was also on the platform.

SAWYER AND DAVEY READY FOR 'BIG PUSH'

Cincinnatian's Backers Hope for Donahey OK; Day-Taft Contest Tightens Up.

(By United Press)

Just a week and a day from the primary election, rival candidates for party nominations put on their final bursts of speed today for victory at the polls and the right to places on the party ballots in November.

Developments in the contest between Charles Sawyer and Gov. Martin L. Davey in the Democratic gubernatorial contest were expected to make previous encounters seem mild in comparison. Sawyer's friends will attempt to start a "bandwogan" movement for him, and the governor was expected to make every blow count in the final week of an arduous campaign.

Hope for Donahey O. K.

The Sawyer faction was arranging for a series of endorsements for him during the last week and hoped to climax it by obtaining a word in his favor from Sen. A. Vic Donahey.

The fight between Robert A. Taft and Supreme Court Judge Arthur H. Day for the Republican senatorial nomination was second in interest only to the Sawyer-Davey contest. Judge Day, who opened a fierce attack upon Taft last week, will take to the radio against him tonight over a five-station hook-up. Transcriptions of the Monday evening talk will be given tomorrow over three stations.

Taft in Cincinnati yesterday confined himself to criticism of the New Deal, contending that after five years under the Roosevelt administration, "the nation is about where it started." He criticized what he termed "Russian and European ideas" in some New Deal legislation.

Sawyer, Davey on Air.

Governor Davey goes on the air tonight for another of his weekly radio addresses, and then starts a swing that will take him into approximately 30 counties. The governor will concentrate his efforts in the rural areas, while Sawyer who was scheduled for at least 10 appearances will visit several of the metropolitan centers. On Friday he will speak over a statewide radio hook-up on state welfare problems.

ENLARGING OF THEATER BEGINS

$50,000 Rebuilding Program To More Than Double Ritz Seating Capacity.

Work started today on the rebuilding and enlarging of the Ritz theater, North Main street, that will cost $50,000 and take two months to complete, Sol Bernstein, manager, announced.

Bernstein recently acquired the site on which the present building stands and the ground back of it, facing Walnut street. The enlarged theater will run from Main to Walnut streets and the seating capacity will be increased from 400 to 1,000.

The entire inside of the present building will be revamped to conform with the new building. An air conditioning system will be installed, in addition to new, upholstered seats and a new RCA sound system.

Modern rest rooms will be built and the walls will be specially treated for acoustics, and refinished. New light fixtures, marquee and new front on the Main street entrance are included in the remodeling program.

Bernstein said that the Ritz will continue its shows until the last two or three weeks of the building project. Rex A. Zediker is the general contractor.

CORRIGAN EVEN MAKES HAY ON SHIPBOARD AS HE COMES HOME

(By International News Service)

ABOARD S. S. MANHATTAN, AT SEA—Douglas Corrigan, the Trans-Atlantic "crate" flyer, who has been shunning the ship's bar and ballroom on his return from Ireland to the United States, has been "making time" just the same.

This became evident today when it was discovered that he has formed a fast friendship with Oswald Ryan, one of the five new Czars of American civil aviation, who also is aboard the Manhattan.

Ryan, in a talk with this correspondent, expressed his admiration for Corrigan in the following terms:

"Corrigan is a natural for American aviation. Apart from his unusually attractive personality, he knows his chosen subject as well as any man I have ever known. He can and will do a lot for the nation's air program. Corrigan is thoroughly air worthy."

Meanwhile, the humorous young airman is the star attraction aboard the ship. His autograph is constantly sought and he is virtually being fought over as a dinner guest.

Because he traveled "light" when he flew in his $900 plane across the Atlantic, he is the only passenger in the Manhattan's cabin class who has no formal clothes with him. As a matter of fact, he has only one pair of trousers aboard ship, and they are a trifle too large.

Nevertheless, he is the social lion among an unusually pulchritudinous group of passengers. But he is politely standing off the girls and shunning the dance floor.

Ashland Jury Probes 5 Per Cent Assessments.

ASHLAND—The Ashland county grand jury met in special session today to investigate the alleged assessment against wages of civil service employes in the Ashland division of the state highway department for poiltical purposes.

The session was called by Common Pleas Judge C. C. Chapman after it was reported here that civil service employes in the highway department had been assessed 5 per cent of their wages for Gov. Martin L. Daveys campaign fund.

Before the session, Judge Chapman read to the 15 members of the jury the law regarding solicitation. Four witnesses were called this morning by Prosecuting Attorney A. Ross Silverling to testify. Silverling has the names of 60 employes who may be called before the jury if necessary.

Shirley Resting Quietly, Her Tour to Be Abandoned

BOSTON—(INS)—Her temperature back to normal, Shirley Temple remained in bed today under the personal care of her physician, Dr. Leo J. Matsen.

Indications were that the remainder of an automobile tour to Hollywood would be abandoned, and the return home made by train as soon as Shirley is able to travel.

Physicians pointed out a slight attack of grippe coupled with the continued strain and excitement created by admirers proved too much for the nine-year-old girl.

"Nothing serious," commented the doctor.

Hollywood Speaks---

—By ROBBIN COONS

(Clumnist Robbin Coons is on vacation. His space is taken over for the day by Bertram Millhauser, who wrote "The Texans," and other Paramount epics.)

By BERTRAM MILLHAUSER

HOLLYWOOD—I never go back to Paramount on a new picture, and see old friends, and hear old voices, but I think of Hattie. Hattie did hair on the lot, in the days when Gloria Swanson's coiffure was "fearfully and wonderfully made." She was colored, and an artist in her line. So much an artist that Cecil de Mille wanted to put her under contract.

I was in C. B.'s office when Hattie bundled in, with a legal blue document in her hands. She was an ample woman, all smile and chunk, but Cecil's office stopped her. It stopped everybody, it was so deep and dark and wide.

"Mis de Mille, 'beau' dis yere contrac'," she hesitated.

"What about it?

"Mis' de Mille, Ah don' unnerstan' it."

"What don't you understand about it, Hattie?"

* * *

She shrugged, an apology and a plea. "Dis yere 'pahty ob de firs' paht,' an' 'pahty ob de secon paht—'"

"Oh, that." He smiled. "That's easy. I'll explain it to you. Party of the first part, that's me. See? And party of the second part that's you. Understand?"

She grinned through an attentive gravity. "Say no mo', Mis de Mille," she beamed. "Cep all Ah got to say is, if de pahty ob de firs' paht ain' gonna be good to de pahty ob de secon' paht—dere ain' gonna be no pahty."

We were working on "Feet of Clay" then. We went on location to Catalina for the opening shots of the picture. Scrambling out of the bus at the St. Catharine everybody piled into the lobby to snatch up the best rooms. I saw Hattie, left behind and hopelessly trying to negotiate four suitcases with two hands. I helped her in.

* * *

That night I met her in a corridor of the hotel. I think she was waiting for me. "Boy," she said in a kind of solemn voice, "you ain't nevah gonna have t' wish fo' luck; you's got luck!" The way she said it made my scalp tingle.

That was back in '24. More than a year later, C. B. parted company with Paramount, and sent for me to join him in New York. Mrs. Millhauser and I packed hurriedly, gathered up our children, and started east. Our trip across the continent—including a train change clear into New York, was tedd. Actually Royalty was never more pampered, more cockered up than we were. Sombody had sent on word to look out for us. We were important people. Boy! It was grand being important. A whole train crew dancing attendance.

* * *

When my wife could stand it no longer she asked "Who told you our name was Millhauser?" and the hovering waiter just smiled and said, "Hattie tol' us yo' was comin'."

Good old Hattie. Beautiful Hattie. She knew all the Pullman porters in town, and she'd sent out word about us.

She's gone, now, to a better world. And probably suborning celestial porters to favored angels.

Noel Shayne, wealthy society girl, is in love with Dr. Julian Paige, a serious-minded young physician who declares he will not permit himself to fall in love with Noel because of the contrasting worlds in which they live. Determined to show Julian she has stamina, Noel gives up a long trip with her aunt, turns over her income of $100,000 to her uncle who is in financial difficulties, buys her first outfit of inexpensive clothes and tells Julian she is going to find a job. After moving to a dingy rooming house, she finds an ad for a governess. About to start on her new adventure, she finds her purse has been stolen, leaving her with only $4.

CHAPTER IV.

Now that she had less than $4 left, following the theft on the park bench, Noel knew she would have to get a job of some kind at once. The money she had would probably last a day or so with careful managing. After that, she'd be penniless.

Noel was thankful that she had eaten a good breakfast. She might be able to go without her lunch and not miss it so much. And perhaps Julian would ask her to have dinner with him at the De Luxe.

It seemed very queer, almost laughable, in fact, that she, Noel Shayne, should be counting her nickels and hoping that a man would invite her to dinner, so she wouldn't have to spend part of the little money she had left. But then, of course, she wanted to have dinner with Julian, with or without an excuse. Just to be near him, to be within sound of his voice, was as near heaven as she could ever know on earth, she told herself.

One thing was certain, in order to save what she could, she'd have to walk all the way out to Belvedere place to see about the governess position. She knew exactly where it was for Belvedere place ran into Belvedere drive, a long and pretty boulevard, which was only a short distance from her own home. Then if she succeeded in getting the place, she could afford bus fare back. Noel had ridden on a bus only once in her life. That had been when she was returning from a party in the country in her little coupe, and had car trouble, several years ago. She had telephoned for a service car, and had ridden an interurban bus into town.

But Noel was accustomed to walking, for she had played golf and tennis a lot. However, long before she reached her destination, she was thankful that she was wearing the oxfords. She'd never have managed this long distance in high heels.

As it was, it was past noon when she reached the number on Belvedere place. The house was an enormous structure of gray stone. For a moment, Noel stood at the big stone entrance gates conscious of a feeling of panic. She was afraid her inexperience in applying for a position might cause her to do the wrong thing.

And this is what happened. She walked up to the imposing front door, with its beautiful fanlight and touched the bell.

The door was opened by a stiff-looking butler in mauve livery who held his head so high he had to look down his nose to see her.

"I've come to answer the advertisement for a governess," Noel tried to say in a steady, confident voice.

"All applicants for jobs go to the side door," the butler said without moving a muscle of his face. He closed the door with a little bang.

For a moment Noel stood there looking angrily at the closed door. Then with a philosophical shrug, she walked around a flagged path to what she supposed would be the side door. She hadn't known that a governess was classed with all other domestic help. But she'd remember it next time.

When she reached the side door, it was thrown instantly open. The same stiff-necked butler stood there. Noel could have laughed because he looked so much like a movie version of a butler. Maybe he had learned his manners from the movies. It was an amusing thought.

"Follow me," he told her curtly.

Noel followed him through a beautiful formal hall, and up a long flight of carved stairs. Then she was ushered into a room which was so crowded with pink damask overstuffed furniture and flowers that Noel did not at first see the blond woman in the black lace negligee who was lying on a chaise longue among innumerable little satin pillows.

* * *

When Noel's eyes met hers at last, the woman was staring at her rather peevishly through a lorgnette. She continued to stare for a long moment. Then she looked at the butler. "Isn't there —I mean, aren't there some more girls out there—Hichens?"

"No, modom, I sent the others away."

"Well, send this one away too. She won't do," the woman said coldly, and turned her face away.

"But Mrs. Garwood," the butler began coaxingly, "we had ought to — I mean, we should give this girl a chance."

Noel was again conscious of the lorgnette being turned in her direction. "What's your name? Where have you been working? Are you good at speaking French and giving music lessons on the piano?"

Noel felt confused at the sudden barrage of questions. She drew a quick breath and began, "My name is Noel Doran. I've worked — that is — I'm experienced with children. I've had training in French and music. I know, I mean I—feel sure I can please you."

Mrs. Garwood's protruding blue eyes were glaring at Noel. "I don't think you know what you mean!" she snapped. Then she called the butler who had resumed his stiff position near the door. "Show her out, Hichens."

Noel felt the butler's eyes upon her now, a queer light in his rather fishy eyes. But he spoke to the woman on the chaise longue. "If modom will pahdon me," he began, "I suggest that we take this young lady's address—er—just in case—"

"Take it," was the impatient reply, "but she can't have the job."

Noel gave the butler her name and address, which he wrote down carefully in a small notebook.

As she made her way to the side door, he followed. "You're too pretty," he said. "that's your trouble." As he closed the door behind her, he said: "Maybe you'll try again some day."

As Noel walked around the flagged walk, she happened to look up. At one of the upstairs windows the face of a little girl was pressed against the window pane, a pale little thing with large unhappy eyes. Even in that one glimpse, there was something about the wan little face that haunted Noel.

* * *

She felt that this was a very queer household indeed. A lovely old house with everything furnished in such perfect taste except the crowded sitting room belonging to its mistress. Both the butler and Mrs. Garwood seemed to have some strange difficulty with their English, speaking correctly for a time, even pompously, then lapsing into bad grammar. And Mrs. Garwood's manner and temper were almost insufferable.

The butler was queer, too, with his unnatural movie mannerisms. The whole atmosphere of the place seemed sinister. Noel thought, but that, she supposed, was only her imagination. However, she felt that she would always remember the face of that little girl she had seen in the upstairs window.

Since she had failed in getting the place, there was nothing else to do but to walk back to town. Judging from the time it had taken her to get out here, it would be almost 6 when she reached the De Luxe. She was almost sick with disappointment at not getting the position as governess, since it seemed to be the one kind of work she could do. But the thought of seeing Julian, even if only for a few minutes, was cheering. She would pass the Medical Arts on her way back.

* * *

So she decided she would stop for a minute and see if he was busy. He had insisted that she was to keep in close touch with him, so in stopping by, she was only doing as he had asked. Noel smiled tiredly to herself, thinking how easy it was to find excuses to do the things one wanted to do.

But she was hoping so much Julian wouldn't be busy, and that he would suggest immediately that he would suggest immediately that they go over to the De Luxe. It was surprising how hungry you grew when your pocketbook was almost empty.

But on arriving at Julian's office, Noel was in for another disappointment. When she opened the office door, she found herself facing Ruth Chester in her crisp white uniform, who told her in her cool, lovely voice that Doctor Paige was out, and would be, indefinitely. Then she shut the door. For the second time that day, Noel had a door shut in her face.

CANADA BUILDS GIANT HANGARS

Reaps Benefit From American, European Experiments and Doubles Space.

(By United Press)

WINNIPEG, Man.—The Trans-Canada Air Lines' hangars here and at Lethbridge have been built with an eye to the future.

Reaping the benefit of the experience of American and European airlines, whose hangers often have proved inadequate as large aircraft came into use, Trans-Canada officials have designed both the Winnipeg and Lethbridge hangars so that the space in them can be doubled if necessary, giving a clear opening of 200 feet, or sufficient to accommodate any size of aircraft likely to be used in the Canadian service.

The main hangar and the two-story administration building here have been completed, and the general staffs and technicians have been transferred from temporary offices to the permanent quarters. Aircraft will be moved into the hangar as soon as the taxi strips from the main runways of the airport are completed. Part of the machine shop, engine test house and several concrete aprons are still under construction.

The main hangar, of brick construction and with steel framework supporting huge areas of glass on two sides, is large enough to accommodate four of the Lockheed 14's at one time, together with smaller aircraft.

IT'S A RIFT!

It Might Be The Heat—Anyway Film Couples Are Melting

By The AP Feature Service

MAYBE it's the heat wave that has caused stage and film folk to break out in a rash of summer divorces. Students of incompatibility, however, probably will list these four recent marital rifts under the general heading of clashes over careers.

Actress Margaret Perry recently obtained her divorce from Actor Burgess Meredith in Reno. It was the second unsuccessful marriage for both. Miss Perry charged cruelty. The divorce was not contested.

Five years of marital explosions reached a climax in Hollywood recently when Lupe Velez, for the third time, filed suit for divorce against Johnny (Tarzan) Weissmuller. Said Lupe, "Thees time, eet's final."

Actress Luise Rainer filed suit for divorce against Playwright Clifford Odets. Asked about his wife's charge that he had a violent temper, Odets said: "In their relationship with women, all men have vile tempers."

Once referred to as one of Hollywood's "ideal marriages," the romance of Joan Crawford and Franchot Tone ended recently in separation. Both said they are "sorry the marriage had to fail."

MONDAY, AUGUST 1, 1938.

For the Children of Our Children.

PEOPLE now living in Mansfield are enjoying advantages that came about through the foresight of earlier residents.

Many of the things that make Mansfield a fine city in which to live were planned and paid for by preceding generations of forward-looking citizens who recognized an obligation to posterity as well as to the city of their own time.

Those 6-year-olds who went first to the East Fourth or West Fifth street schools, when those buildings were new, have by now reached the age of 75 years, if they are still living.

It was the determination, and the sacrifices, of Mansfield people just after the close of the Civil war, that paved the way toward erection of those and other public school buildings which served their time well, and provided schooling, from the primary grades through high school, for the thousands of Mansfield children who later grew to manhood and womanhood—with a high percentage of creditable achievement.

In these years Mansfield has shown steady and substantial growth in each decade—a growth that in only one decade (from 1900 to 1910) was under 20 per cent.

All indications point to a continuance of Mansfield's population growth and need for preparation to provide suitable facilities for a city of 50,000 or more residents.

As the voters of Mansfield school district are being asked to approve a bond issue of $550,000 to help finance a million dollar school building and modernizing program, it is not only present needs that should be considered—but the needs of the future, when the school children of today have become parents and grandparents, upon whom community responsibilities will then rest . . . as they now rest upon those who were themselves school children such a seemingly short time ago.

Mansfield needs new school buildings—and modernizing of old ones. The opportunity is now offered to carry through a million-dollar school improvement program at approximately HALF THE COST to local taxpayers that would ordinarily be the case.

Approval of the $550,000 bond issue will make available $450,000 in federal funds for this project—money that will be allotted somewhere else if not used here . . . resulting in no benefit to Mansfield either in providing employment or in improving school facilities in this city.

A million dollars is none too much to pay for the school improvement program that has been carefully worked out for Mansfield. It is a program that, in any event, would have to be carried through in a comparatively short time.

"This is an instance in which it can be properly said, "The value and the benefits will continue long after the cost has been forgotten."

Make Jobs By Buying Now.

MANSFIELD'S "Sales Mean Jobs" crusade gets under way with a public meeting in Central park tomorrow evening.

Similar crusades are going on in many cities in Ohio and other states.

Results in a number of cities have already been surprising in the extent to which business has been stimulated and unemployment reduced.

The purpose of this crusade is to restore normal buying among people who have been regularly employed and who can afford to buy the things they need—luxuries as well as necessities.

A spread of commodities of all kinds among the largest possible number of people is the only thing that can restore and maintain prosperity in this country—and the country as a whole cannot have prosperity unless each community shares in that prosperity.

To say that "Sales Mean Jobs" is merely expressing a generally known fact in three words, which might as easily be "Jobs Mean Sales," for the one depends on the other, which ever way you put it.

Entirely aside from localized interest in this nation-wide "Sales Mean Jobs" crusade, Mansfield is directly concerned in the success of the movement in every city and every state, for it is Mansfield factories that produce many of the articles of merchandise that will be sold all over the United States as a result of the general stimulation in buying that will be brought about as a result of this unified effort.

More buying in Mansfield will also help increase industrial production in other cities—thus serving as a link in the endless chain of production, distribution and use, which keeps people at work, puts money in motion, spreads purchasing power and provides the comforts of life for all who are willing and able to do some kind of necessary work.

Attend tomorrow night's meeting—join in the spirit of this crusade—and BUY NOW THE THINGS YOU WANT AND CAN AFFORD TO HAVE!

Heavy Travel Bill.

TRAVEL is one of our biggest and most expensive industries, taking about $5,000,000,000 a year out of American pockets. But there's no need for worry about that, because nearly all of it just passes around and flows back into American pockets.

Transportation, hotels and tourist camps, food, amusements, and personal luxuries—candy, gum, drinks, etc.—account for about a billion apiece.

It was Goethe, the poet-philosopher, who remarked: "Happy is the man who early learns the wide chasm that lies between his wishes and his powers."

They tell of the preacher who was surprised by the large attendance—until he discovered that the "S" had dropped off of the Free Seats sign.

Even if the worst comes to the worst, there are still those "sixty ruling families" to be married into.

It is highly improper to boo a public official—silent contempt is much more effective.

Simile: As temporary as a Hollywood marriage.

Watching Trends

—By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON — Not in a long time have we run into such a tone of hush-hush about the state department, department of commerce and even the treasury with regard to German affairs.

Experts will talk informatively "off the record" about trade and other relations affecting Germany but are genuinely careful that no offensive note be struck. Germany is the keystone right now in European peace negotiations and this government is anxious not to make things worse, since they are already bad enough.

One friendly note was struck with the return from Germany of Commander Rosendahl, the navy's big dirigible operator. He said in an interview that "the large airship has no war value in Europe." Germany, he said, is building them only for peacetime uses. For that reason, he urged that the United States should reverse its policy and sell helium to Germany to make airship travel safe.

* * *

To Eckener—Regrets.

IT WAS a blow to Secretary Ickes and his interior department. Mr. Ickes based much of his decision against shipping helium to Germany on early statements of Rosendahl regarding the war uses of zeppelins.

Under the law, the secretary is directed to sell helium aboard only if he is certain it will not be used for military purposes. Rosendahl says the dirigible is still a good weapon for the United States, with its long coast to be patrolled, but not for Germany.

It did not help out the peaceful relations of Germany and the United States for old Hugo Eckener, master zeppelin builder and navigator, to come all the way to the United States for helium for one of his ships—and then to be sent away empty-handed.

* * *

Mother Remembers.

IN ALMOST every major public building in Washington there is a bronze tablet with the names of men who went from the various departments to fight in the World war. Some list hundreds of names.

Every once in a while a bouquet of flowers will be deposited at the foot of one of the tablets. Sometimes it is an ornate bouquet, the formal remembrances of some organization to which the dead soldier once belonged. Occasionally the bouquet is a simple bunch of flowers—one Mama picked out of the garden to leave below her boy's name as she headed for town to do some shopping.

Wars last an awfully long time—with mothers.

* * *

Shy Howard Hughes, who flew around the world in 91 hours, was a half hour late getting to Washington to address a gathering of newsmen and federalisti, but once here he demonstrated he had a bit of imagination about this aviation business. He drew a picture of a future along the Hudson, when big airliners, with controls so sensitive they will measure altitude to the last foot, will be soaring in from Europe.

"They will be big, perhaps not as big as the Queen Mary," he dreamed along.

Well, if they are "perhaps not as big as the Queen Mary," they will be at least colossal, perhaps even stupendous. And probably they will be picketed—"this ship unfair to organized airwavers."

Looking Back

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Thursday, Aug. 1, 1918.

There was a shortage of school teachers, due to more lucrative employment in other lines.

Walter Foss underwent appendicitis operation at General hospital.

Edwin K. Bacon resigned as manager of the Globe Steel company.

Dewey Bissell moved to Mansfield from Shelby.

Birthday, T. R Sammons.

Al G. Fields minstrels appeared at Opera House, with capacity audience.

Bankers reported that silver dollars were gradually disappearing from circulation.

Alex Forbes came from Ashland to open tailor shop here.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Tuesday, Aug. 1, 1933.

Funeral services were held here for Harry C. Laird, former Mansfielder, killed in an auto accident near Ashtabula.

One hundred and twenty arrests were made during July, 54 auto accidents reported, with $25 collected for traffic fines.

There were 116 guests at golden wedding party of Mr and Mrs. John Walters, near Bellville.

Mrs. Louist Baldauf Stone died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. B. Thompson, South Diamond street.

Robert Taylor, Summit court, celebrated his 18th birthday with a party of friends.

Mrs. Loucila Lomax, 271 Parkway drive, was recovering from an operation.

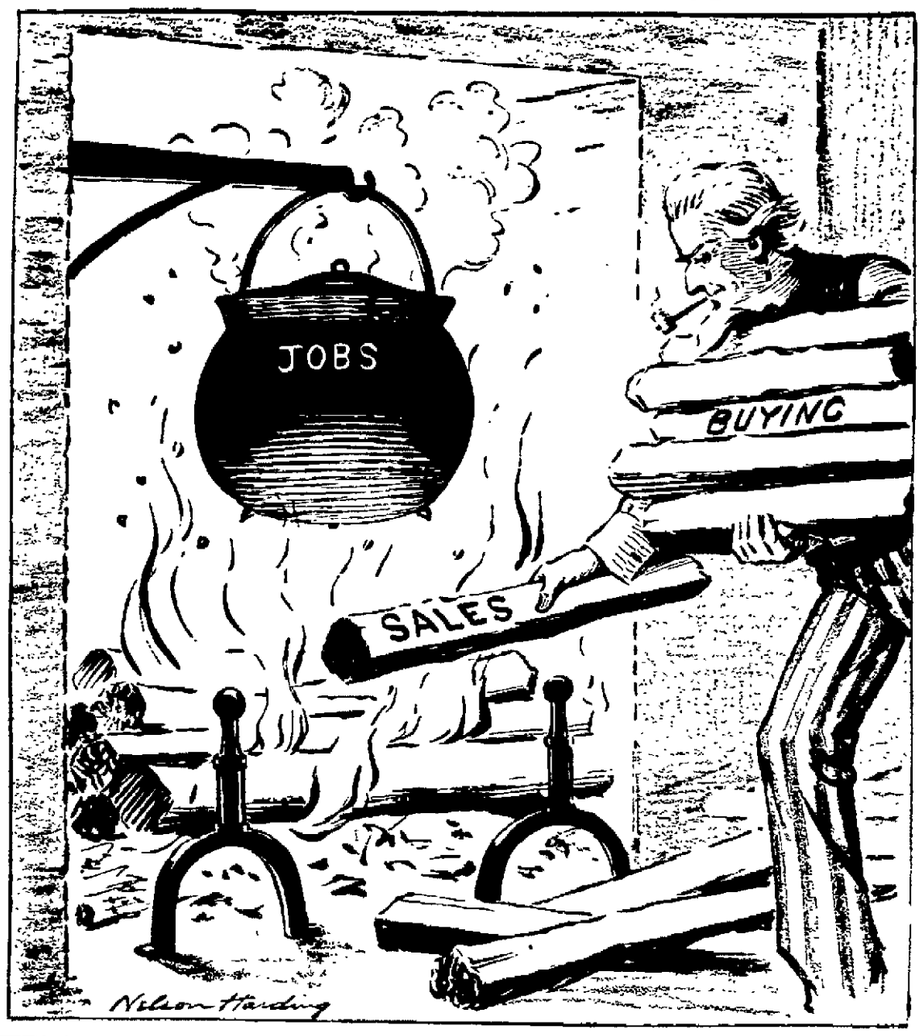
FEED THE FIRE—BOIL THE POT



Primaries Show Democratic Split

—By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON—Judging from Democratic primary results thus far the party still is split pretty wide open between "pro" and "anti" New Dealers.

President Roosevelt appears to be amptly popular personally. If he were to run right now for a third term the indications are that he would win handsomely, regardless of the two-term precedent. But when Democratic voters come to the selection of their senatorial, representatorial and state candidates they seem inclined to do their choosing without much regard for what presumably are his wishes.

To be sure, some New Dealers have been renominated, but there has been no slaughter of the "antis" either.

* * *

THIS YEAR'S PROSPECTS

The Republicans probably will gain in November a very few senate seats, quite a handful of representatives' seats and maybe two or three governorships.

However, that will be (if it proves to be a sound prediction) not because of any appreciable loss in Rooseveltian prestige but because recent Democratic majorities have been abnormal.

The internal Democratic conflict is entirely a different matter.

* * *

STEWART SORTS THEM OUT

Of the anti-New Deal Jeffersonians who are renominated most are likely to be re-elected; otherwise they would not have been renominated.

Of the pro- New Dealers who are nominated or renominated some are likely to be defeated in November because of anti-New Deal Democratic votes cast for their Republican opponents.

On such a basis the combined Republicans and anti-New Deal Democrats in the next congress should be stronger than they were at the last session and they were strong enough then to throw a crimp into major New Deal legislative proposals.

True, there are some virtually New Deal Republicans but not many of them.

* * *

EMBARRASSING?

There is this item to be taken into consideration:

Anti-New Deal Democrats, seeking renomination, quite numerously have assured voters that they are NOT "antis."

They ARE "antis" and every well-informed person ought to know it, but they may be taken at their word by a considerable number of New Deal voters who are not as well-informed as they might be.

Supposing this to be the case it will not be surprising if a sizable block of Democratic "antis" get back into congress on the theory that they are "pros."

The nub of it is this:

After having declared themselves, for the current campaign's purposes, as pro-New Dealers, will not these gentry find it embarrassing, if renominated and re-elected, to continue voting anti-New Dealerishly?

* * *

LIP SERVICE?

In short:

Anti-New Deal Democrats are afraid of the New Deal. If they admit their "anti-ishness they are fearful of being retired; so they SAY they are New Dealers.

On the opposite hand, the New Deal is afraid of the Democratic "antis." If it attempts to "purge" them and fails it suffers a mighty conspicuous slap in the face, which must be extremely damaging to its prestige.

* * *

PERSONAL TRIUMPH

President Roosevelt's western tour was a great triumph for him—individually.

Had it been followed, at the western primaries, by a veritable massacre of anti-New Deal candidates for renomination all would have been well from the New Deal standpoint.

It was not so followed.

The populace simply was delirious over "F. D." himself.

Yet in subsequent primary voting the Democratic "pros" and "antis" broke about 50-50. They seem to be about where they were before the tour started—which means that "F. D." is a good deal of a popular idol, but cannot necessarily nominate and elect his own congress and all the governors.

Health Advice

How Doctor Found Hay Fever Cause.

—By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

IN THE LATE summer of 1870, his neighbors in Cambridge, Mass., thought that old Dr. Morrill Wyman had gone somewhat daft. It is all very well to pull up weeds from your own garden, but why go into the vacant lots to make a collection of them?

But Dr. Wyman had a purpose in view and probably suffered—although he does not record this—for his industry with a severe attack of hay fever. He had been a victim of the malady for over 40 years. And during a long part of that time he had been trying to discover the cause of it. He had done many other things too; he had a distinguished career as professor of medicine at Harvard Medical school, and had invented a method of drawing fluid off the chest in pleurisy.

But I am inclined to think that his work in hay fever was his masterpiece. He had a very personal interest in it. Not only he had hay fever himself, but also his father, two brothers, a sister and a son had it. Every fall beginning about Aug. 15. They all fled about that time to a summer home in the White mountains where they were free from it. Whenever one of them had to go back to Boston he had an attack, until frost came to relieve him.

Plant Caused It.

It certainly looked as if a plant caused it in some way—the fact that the whole family was free from symptoms in the White mountains where there was an entirely different growth of plants from those in Cambridge. But Dr. Wyman's efforts to identify the exact plant had failed. Finally he lit on ragweed as a cause. It was ragweed he was gathering in his yard and the nearby vacant lots.

His experiment as planned was simplicity itself. He wrapped the ragweed plants up in paper so that no pollen could spread. Then he took the parcel up to the White mountains. He waited until his attack, consequent on descending to Cambridge, had subsided. Then in the presence of his son, he opened the package and they both sniffed at the plants. Both were immediately seized with sneezing and itching of the eyes, nose and throat, with a limpid discharge. The attack of hay fever lasted until the following afternoon. A brother, Professor Jeffries Wyman, also subject to hay fever, but who did not sniff the plant, remained free from hay fever.

A perfect experiment—two certain reactions and one control. It was repeated at a neighboring hotel where eight people sniffed the plant, and all but one were attacked with catarrh as they would have been at the same period at home. Eight others subject to hay fever, who did not sniff the plant, remained free.

The ragweed origin of American autumnal hay fever was proved by this experiment. Dr. Wyman published his classic book, "Autumnal Catarrh," in 1872.

In a very short time this plague will descend on us and lay several millions of Americans low. They must begin to prepare by (1) planning a vacation, (2) taking immunizing vaccines, (3) preparing a pollen-free air-conditioned room, or (4) just making up their minds to stand it.

Young America Says—

Here's the Ideal Mrs. America.

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

FEEL like Romance? Time to read a Valentine? Then listen in.

"We've so many pictures of 'Miss America'," says Frank Genatosi, of Boston, Mass., "but I've never seen one of the ideal young American Missis. So I herewith present her—

"She is 22, married four years and has a son of three. She looks just as cute when she wakes up in the morning as she does when she's all dressed for a party. She makes an ideal sister, pal, sweetheart, wife and mother.

"If her husband wants to go out, she'll go out with him, and if he wants to stay home, she'll stay, too. If he forgets anniversaries, she just laughs and tells him that in all the years they have before them, he's bound to remember some of them.

"If, on his way home, he should meet some of the boys, does she nag him for coming in late? She does not; she just asks him if he had a good time. She claims that she, too, likes a little fun and that she knows how the time flies by.

"Instead of berating him if he loses his job, she tells him that everything happens for the best—buck up, darling, and try again!

"She's a good housekeeper, but she thinks more of her husband's happiness than she does of cigarette ashes or magazines on the floor.

"Young Mrs. America—and I should know. For I give you—

"Mrs. Ideal America.
"MY WIFE, MEG!"

Frank Genatosi—age 23,
Boston, Mass.
($10 prize winner)

Bless you, my darlings, you've left a hard-boiled newspaper sister with tears in her wise-weary eyes. And I'll wager that mine isn't the only sniff-sniff!

BUT now comes a grimmer topic. "Acquitted on plea of insanity"—Armin Steuber, of Brooklyn, N. Y., takes issue with this so frequent verdict.

"It's becoming a racket," says Armin. "Someone is murdered, we acquit the killer, give him a series of mental tests, pronounce him insane, shut him up for a brief period. Presently (with as little publicity as possible) the performance is repeated — the murderer is pronounced sane, and away he goes. What sort of a deal is that to society? How can we tell that he will not be seized with his 'temporary insanity' and add another victim to his mounting list?

"We have compulsory periodic tests for diseased bodies. Good! THEN I PROPOSE A COMPULSORY PERIODIC TEST FOR MINDS! OUR CRIMINALS MIGHT NOT BE SO SURE THEN OF ESCAPING JUSTICE . . . AND THE TRULY DERANGED WOULD BE SEGREGATED BEFORE THEY DID ANY HARM."

A fine suggestion, Armin—and one that every criminologist will back.

PREPARE, now, for BAD NEWS. For here comes Mary Angela Goodwin, of Chicago, with far from flattering comments on her female sex. According to Mary, "the Great American Pastime" is Petting, that 'orrid 'abit—PETTING.

"To be a 'desirable date' the average lassie nowadays thinks she positively must drink, smoke and suffer some goofy guy to maul her. But she is so wrong! If only she would realize that this is an insult to her intelligence! Ten to one the fellow resorts to this because he finds all she has to offer are her lips! This may prove very intriguing for a spell, but, eventually, Romeo will tire of the exertion and go elsewhere for some intelligent conversation.

"Young people's parties are certainly not appetizing, to say the least. They consist mainly, in guzzling beer and waxing romantic in a big way! Why? Surely there are some engaging, healthier pastimes than lolling about so disgustingly. They're lazy, that's all . . . too lazy to engage in thoughtful conversation, and laziness plus Sexiness make for a VANISHING YOUTH!

"Wake up, Youth! All that mushiness is for old fogies who've lost their lease on life. If you've got to have romance there's time for it later. But you're young—remember that Youth comes only once!"

Mary Angela Goodwin—age 18.
Chicago, Ill.
($5 prize winner)

Well, mebbe so, honey—mebbe so! And far be it from me to advocate booze or bundling. But this old race has been kissing 'n' cooing for quite a number of years and, far from "vanishing," it seems to be steppin' right along and having a swell time doing it. So how about trying a few smiles yourself, sweetheart. Personally, at your age, I preferred one second of hand squeeze to an eternity of encyclopedias!

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — Jascha Heifetz speaking: "This stuff about the cloistered artist secure in his ivory tower is all bunk. To be a success nowadays an artist has to have the nerve of a bullfighter, the digestion of a peasant, the disposition of a nightclub hostess, and the stoicism of a Buddhist monk!"

Well, Heifetz ought to know. He was in St. Petersburg performing for the Czar when the revolution broke out. He reached Ireland just in time to bump into the Sinn Fein uprising. When the Japanese earthquake of 1923 made thousands homeless he was there, and in Tientsin he was compelled to make his way to the concert hall through roads barricaded with barbed wire. In Bombay he gave a recital the day after Gandhi was jailed, and it was not safe for a white man to walk the streets. And recently he completed his 1,350,000th miles of air travel as a touring concert artist.

Jascha, you're a sucker if you don't get one of the big cigarette companies to sign you up, testifying that tobacco alone keeps you from becoming a nervous wreck.

ODD doings in the news these days. . . . Major Bowes loses a finger. . . . A rabbi is arrested by police who mistakingly believe he is peddling ice cream without a license.

The Major was on his yacht when the accident occurred, and they hurried to shore. But by time they reached there an ambulance was backed up to the dock, waiting. How did it get there? By marine telephone service.. The Major's yacht is equipped to talk, via telephone, anywhere in the world. And when his thumb was cut off they lifted the receiver and telephoned a hospital.

As for that rabbi: Every day he goes to a little ice cream factory in the Bronx. He buys ice cream and gives it away to the children in his district.

But recently police have been on the lookout for peddlers operating without licenses. And they pounced on the good rabbi with an armload of frozen refreshment.

A few minutes later he telephoned the assistant district attorney and explained what had happened.

"But they can't put you in jail for that," exclaimed the attorney.

"Oh, can't they?" cried the rabbi. "I'm talking from jail."

AN ALABAMA editor bawls us out, and very properly, too: "Have just finished reading proof on your article describing a party game in which the actors portrayed the parts of famous lovers. If I didn't think so much of you, George Tucker, I would be inclined to scold you—a man of the deep South who has never heard of charades. Don't know for sure whether you deep Southerners know about the game but my section of the Blue Ridge mountains in North Carolina relied on charades frequently for an evening's entertainment."

Well, I certainly went off the deep end on that one. Of course I had played charades. But the game, like an Ed Wynn joke, has a thousand variations.

This seems to be a form of criticism: Said Bing Crosby to his son, Gary: "Bob Burns' little girl, Anna, is coming over to play with you, Gary. Won't that be nice?"

"Yes," replied Gary, "but if she comes over here dragging one of those bazookas with her I'll make her listen to some of your old records."

CRITICAL WEEK STARTS TODAY FOR NEW DEAL

Six Of Month's 15 Primaries To Be Staged Within Next Five Days.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—The Roosevelt administration stands to gain great political advantages or lose considerable prestige in Democratic primary elections this week.

Six of the 15 primaries scheduled during August will be held within five days. Senate nominations are at stake in Kansas, Missouri, Tennessee and Kentucky, but primaries in Virginia and West Virginia involve only representatives.

The outcome of two senatorial contests on Tuesday appears reasonably predictable. Capital politicians believe Sen. George McGill, who has only nominal opposition, will win in Kansas, and they expect the Missouri nomination to go to Bennett Champ Clark, an anti-administration leader in the senate, who has powerful state and city organization backing.

Even Break There.

Thus in the first two major primaries the administration should break about even with the conservative Democratic forces.

The third senatorial primary of the week will be Thursday in Tennessee Sen' George L. Berry, traditionally an ardent administrationist but recently cool toward the New Deal, is seeking the nomination against several opponents

The administration has stayed scrupulously out of the Tennessee situation, complicated by a state organization fight The senate campaign expenditures committee severely criticized all factions in a statement this week

Kentucky Vital Spot.

It is in the Kentucky race that the White House may achieve its greatest victory or suffer its worst defeat because President Roosevelt has asked in no uncertain terms for the renomination of Senate Majority Leader Barkley over his opponent, Gov. A. B Chandler.

If Barkley wins next Saturday, the victory will be interpreted universally as a personal triumph for the president Should Chandler emerge victorious, the prestige of the administration would be severely shaken

The Republican national leadership, heretofore wary of primary intervention, has taken up a vulnerable position in Kansas in an effort to block the nomination of the Rev. Gerald B Winrod of Wichita, for McGill's senate seat Other Republican aspirants include former Gov. Clyde M. Reed and Dallas W. Knapp.

John Hamilton, Republican national chairman, urged the voters to reject Winrod.

Important for G. O. P.

The week's other important Republican senatorial primary will be in Missouri, where former Gov. Henry S. Caulfield seeks the nomination in opposition to Ray E White, St. Louis county real estate dealer.

Virginia and West Virginia also will hold their primaries Tuesday The New Deal has developed as an issue in the only two congressional races in Virginia, seven of the nine representatives being unopposed

William E Dodd, jr, son of the former ambassador to Germany, and an ardent administrationist, and Rep. Howard W. Smith, who has opposed some New Deal measures, are carrying on a heated campaign.

Three of West Virginia's six Democratic representatives, Andrew Edmiston, Robert Ramsey and George W Johnson, have opposition, but the issues in their contest have been localized.

FIGHT CRICKETS

Rochester Hears Women Complain They're In Beds, Pajamas.

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—(AP)—With little hope of success, Rochester health officials mustered their forces today against a plague of crickets which they described as the worst in the city's history.

Action came after 20 women protested to city officials that they were tired of crickets "in our beds, in our pajamas, in our clothes closets, in our flour bins and in our hair."

ACCUSER NOW FACING TRIAL

Officer Who Testified Against Superior In Court-Martial May Lose Own Ranking.

(By International News Service)

NEW YORK—Reserve Lieut. James O. Smith, jr., complaining witness in the court martial trial of his superior officer, Lieut. Col Stewart S. Giffin, now faces trial himself which may result in dismissal from the service.

Smith's story to the court martial body which promptly found Giffin guilty only of two minor violations, tantamount to complete vindication, has resulted in charges being brought against the lieutenant by his own commanding officer, Reserve Col. Charles G H. Scheer.

Scheer charges that Smith, as he admitted when testifying, brought the charges against Giffin in revenge for a business deal which had failed to go through.

The office of the 2nd area commander, Brig. General Evan H. Humphrey, has already notified Scheer that a trial board will be appointed to hear the charge against Smith.

Scheer stated that he is bringing these charges as a "matter of duty to improve the relations between reserve and army officers and to show that we countenance no malice"

Woman's Haymaker Knocks Out Her Charge In Court

CLEVELAND—(INS)—Mrs. Angela Carrochio, 51, charged her husband, Raffoele, 51, with assault and battery.

Appearing in court, she didn't quite get the idea when Judge Bradley Hull told both to raise their right hands while being sworn.

She thought her husband was raising his hand to strike her, so she swung a haymaker at him and missed. Charles Tesnow, court officer, tried to explain matters, whereupon Mrs. Carrochio swung on him. She missed again.

When all was quiet, Judge Hull said:

"Case dismissed. This woman can protect herself."

"I GET TOP PRICES FOR MY TOBACCO!"

Grower Tony Strickland has an "inside" slant on the difference in cigarettes

THERE'S A HEAP OF DIFFERENCE IN TOBACCO—IN QUALITY, PRICE, AND SMOKING. LAST YEAR, AND MOST OF THE YEARS I'VE BEEN RAISING TOBACCO, CAMEL BOUGHT MY REALLY FINE GRADES— AND BID UP TO GET THEM TOO! I SMOKE CAMELS BECAUSE I KNOW I'M GETTING FINER TOBACCO. CAMELS HAVE A BIG 'EDGE' WITH MEN WHO GROW TOBACCO

SURE, the men who grow and grade tobacco have a preference in cigarettes. They've got a real reason too. As Mr. Strickland says: "I know I'm getting FINER TOBACCOS in Camels." You can prove that fact for yourself. Smoke Camels. You too will say: "Camels agree with me!"

1,500 on Hand as Bellville Dedicates $49,000 Bridge

CONGRESSMAN PAYS TRIBUTE TO RESIDENTS

Ashbrook Says New Span Over Clearfork 'Emblem Of Your Work.'

District, state and county officials helped Bellville dedicate its new $49,000 bridge Saturday afternoon before a crowd of about 1,500 persons.

Praise for Bellville residents, county officials, and the state highway department for their work in building the bridge was the keynote of the hour-long program on which Congressman William A. Ashbrook of the 17th district was the principal speaker.

Commending the expenditure of public funds for work relief projects, Congressman Ashbrook said the expenditures have been "largely for public improvement and something that just had to be done."

"Naturally there has been some waste by the federal government, but the use of funds for public projects has in the main been for the public good, providing work and making possible schools, bridges, and buildings that otherwise could not have been built," Ashbrook said.

Defends Federal Debt.

"While we may be accumulating a considerable debt, future generations will be able to pay it—Americans will never repudiate that debt," he added.

Ashbrook is seeking the Democratic nomination for his 710th term in congress at the August primary.

He paid honor to Bellville for its long campaign to obtain the bridge and described the huge steel and cement structure as "an emblem of your work."

"There was no selfish purpose in building this bridge," he said. "It was built for future generations."

Approximately $26,000 in federal funds went into the building of the bridge. The county contributed $10,000 and the state highway department about $13,000.

Dennis Dunlavey, a member of the state public utilities commission, represented Gov. Martin L. Davey at the ceremonies. A large picture of Davey hung at the south end of the bridge while his campaign posters were displayed at various points of vantage.

Little Sally Willson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. K. M. Willson of Bellville clipped a red, white and blue ribbon across the south end of the span as I. R. Ault, division highway engineer of Ashland, presented the structure to Ohio motorists.

Reads History of Bellville.

A history of Bellville and the bridge, prepared by Boyd Wierman, state highway engineer in Richland county, was read by C. L. Mitchell, chairman of the board of county commissioners.

The paper pointed out that Bellville was laid out in 1815 and named in honor of Robert Bell, the founder. At one time the village was a more important trading center than Mansfield and was considered as the location of the county seat. It had the first county fair in 1850.

The steel bridge which was replaced by the new structure was built after a flood destroyed a bridge over Clearfork creek and part of the village in 1882.

The new bridge, which has a 40-foot highway width and a 140-foot span, was built in slightly less than six months by the Purdy Construction company, Mansfield. Work was completed July 16.

Preceding the dedication program on a platform at the south end of the bridge, the Bellville high school band headed a parade of public officials from the public square to the dedication scene.

Visiting officials were introduced by A. A. Shafer, chairman of the dedication committee, and Ralph C. Lutz, county representative, who were in charge of the program.

INSURGENTS TRY FLANKING MOVE

Attempt To Cross Ebro River In Counter-Offensive Against Loyalists.

(By Associated Press)

HENDAYE—The Spanish Insurgents launched a counter-offensive today on the southern end of the Catalan front in an attempt to cross the Ebro river near its delta and outflank government forces driving on Gandesa.

This is the only point where the Insurgents were able to nip the miliamen's initial attack before it gained headway last Monday.

Insurgent reinforcements have been distributed all along the Ebro from the Mequinenza mountains north of Fayon to the Mediterranean, but the greatest concentration was said to be near the delta.

It was believed the government's weakness in that sector was due to removal of many troops to the north for the campaign against Gandesa. Insurgent headquarters for the Catalan front.

The government asserted the Catalan offensive already had accomplished its aim—to break Gen. Francisco Franco's plans for "double-header" offensives against Barcelona and Valencia. The Insurgents, on the other hand, called the campaign "a complete failure."

BRITAIN BAKES IN HEAT WAVE

Vacation Area Swelters; Floods Hit Lake District.

LONDON—(AP)—Half of Britain sizzled today in a heat wave while a large area was submerged by freak floods.

A death toll of 13 already had been tabulated as record crowds of vacationists in southern England began the last day of the three-day bank holiday. Two of the deaths were from prostration in heat of 85 degrees.

Six and one-half inches of rain—the heaviest in 40 years—swamped the lake district in Cumberland, halted steamer services, flooded streets and houses, drowned livestock, submerged automobiles and swept fish into backyards.

SHERIFF SELLS 31 CITY LOTS

County Gets $2,735, Just $139 Less Than Amount Of Delinquent Taxes.

The county sold 31 Mansfield lots at sheriff's sale Saturday at the courthouse for $2,735, or $139 less than the delinquent taxes on the properties which Treasurer John E. Kolb sought to collect.

Two other lots, located at Harter and Chilton avenues, on which the county sought $1,486 in back taxes, attracted no bidders and will be offered again. The lots, appraised at $800, are owned by Lee Roy Shover and others.

Offered to satisfy a tax judgment for $2,314 against Mardiros H. Bozyan, 29 vacant lots in the Maple lake section, south of Maple street, were bid in by Paul M. Eliot, of the Farmers Savings and Trust company, for $2,525. The lots were appraised at $1,100.

Sold on a foreclosure order against Martin Hoffman and others, a property at Gilbert and Raleigh avenues went to John J. Thoms, Mansfield, for $376. Taxes due on the property amounted to $342.

Steve Briich, Mansfield, purchased a property on Central avenue for $134. Back taxes totaled $218 on the lot, which was owned by W. N. Bergan.

SIXTY DEAD IN JAMAICA CRASH

52 Bodies Recovered From Wreckage: 300 on Train.

KINGSTON, Jamaica—(AP)—Jamaica's worst railroad wreck probably will take a toll of at least 60 lives.

Fifty-two bodies have been recovered from the wreckage near Balaclava, 70 miles northwest of here, since Saturday. Seventy of the injured were taken to hospitals.

All of the 300 passengers were natives.

A lack of co-ordination by the two locomotives pulling the train apparently caused the wreck. The lead engine, rounding a curve, slowed. The second engine crashed into the first, which was derailed. The baggage car and four coaches of the train piled into the second engine and were telescoped.

HITS NEW SNAG IN WOODLAND WATER PROJECT

City's Plans For Installation Of Pumps Rejected By State Board Of Health.

City officials ran into a new snag today on the $75,000 Woodland water improvement when the state department of health rejected plans for the installation of equipment at the reservoir which had been submitted to them for approval.

Service-Safety Director Tracy C. Styert said the board had returned the plans on the installation of booster pumps and motors at the pump house at the reservoir, pointing out that a basement would have to be constructed and "certain valves" installed there.

Styert explained that it had been planned to place all the equipment on the floor. The building at present has no basement.

Goes to Columbus.

Alvin C. Mock, city designing engineer, left for Columbus this morning where he hopes to confer with the health department on the rejection of the plans.

Meanwhile Styert said that awarding the contracts for the equipment—two booster pumps and the necessary valves and a 150,000 gallon elevated tank—has been delayed until approval of the plans can be obtained.

He said that this was necessary because engineers might have to re-evaluate the efficiency of the pumps and motors should the construction plans be revised.

The board of control last week opened proposals on the equipment to be used in the construction of the tank tower.

The Chicago Bridge and Iron Works, Chicago, was the low bidder on the construction of the tank with a price of $14,790 while the Downing and Hetrick company, Columbus, with a bid of $3,537, was low on the pumps and valves.

RALLY TONIGHT

District Townsend Followers to Meet In Central Park.

Charles M. Newell, Cleveland, a national Townsend plan representative, and Walter Woodward, Townsend-endorsed candidate for the nomination for congress from the 17th district, are scheduled to speak at 7:30 p. m. today at a district Townsend rally in Central park.

Woodward, who lives near Bellville, is a candidate on the Republican ticket. He was endorsed last week by the national Townsend organization, agent of Dr. Francis E. Townsend's old age pension program.

In the event of rain, tonight's rally will be at the Y. M. C. A., it was said.

U. S. GRAND JURY TO INVESTIGATE MEDICAL SET-UP

Sees Possibility 'Organized Medicine' May Have Broken Anti-Trust Laws.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—The justice department soon will begin a grand jury investigation to determine whether "organized medicine" has violated anti-trust laws in opposing a co-operative health society.

The decision to conduct the inquiry was announced last night by Thurman Arnold, assistant attorney general, who said the outcome would have "far-reaching consequence on one of our most pressing problems."

The immediate issue was a situation which arose in Washington after 2,500 federal employes formed Group Health Association, Inc. The organization retained its own physicians to provide full medical care for members, who pay monthly fees.

Tells of Opposition.

Arnold said the American Medical association, the Medical Society of the District of Columbia and some officials of both had tried to prevent operation of the association.

Those accused, he declared, had threatened expulsion from the District Medical society of doctors who accept employment with the Group Health association or who consult its physicians. Staff doctors of the co-operative society, he added, had been excluded from Washington hospitals.

Arnold said the justice department considers this a violation of the anti-trust laws.

Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the Journal of the American Medical association, said in Chicago that the association might comment on Arnold's statement in a day or two.

A Washington court held last week that the Group Health association was functioning legally.

THE FIRST CALF

MY neighbor's Jersey heifer came home from pasture, driven by the hired country lad. The cows hurried on to reach the barn, where rich ground feed was waiting, and fresh-made clover hay.

The little heifer lingered on behind and tried to turn back to the pasture many times. Only the quick movements of the boy had kept her headed toward the barn. She lowed and swung heavily against the barnyard fence. Her large, dark liquid eyes showed anxiety and discontent; the muscles of her forelegs above the knee, twitched and rippled. There was almost mortal struggle there . . . an urge so keen that not even a high barred gate could conquer. She tried this portion of the woven wire fence, then that, and finally, when she thought no one was looking, over the gate she bounded like a doe, clearing the high obstruction at one leap.

Down to the pasture the heifer rushed. The gate was open. Here she paused as if to plan her course. Entering, she walked with hasty steps along the close-barbed fence, then over to the farthest end, where she concealed herself among some trees, then headed warily for a hazel thicket.

As I drew closer I heard a low, contented moo that would thrill the heart of any living being. A sound so sweet and soft that I loved the very presence of the scene. For there before me, moving slightly on the grassy earth, was a dark brown calf, so perfectly concealed among the brush and dark brown boulders that not even an eagle soaring high above could have detected it.

The mother licked the back and flank of her new-born baby with her ample tongue. It bawled contentedly and struggled to its feet. How proudly the mother smelled and nudged her offspring!

My neighbor did not find the calf for three full days.

FREMONT HONOR 'OLD BETSY' AND HEROES OF 1812

Gun Helped Save City From British; Town To Mark Battle Anniversary.

(By Associated Press)

FREMONT—"Old Betsy," an ancient, battle-scarred cannon, will occupy a place of honor here tomorrow when Fremonters turn out to celebrate the 125th anniversary of the battle of Fort Stephenson.

To residents of this city, Aug 2, or "Croghan day," as it is popularly known, ranks second only to the Fourth of July as a patriotic holiday.

It received its name as a tribute to Major George Croghan, a fiery young Kentuckian whom historians credit with inflicting one of the first decisive British defeats in the War of 1812

"Old Betsy" was the only cannon in his possession when Croghan was placed in command of Fort Stephenson and a garrison of 160 men in the summer of 1813.

Betsy Greeted British.

On Aug. 1 of that year, the British Commodore Barclay sailed up the Sandusky river and unloaded a battery of six-pounders and Howitzers at a point not far from the fort.

Croghan and his men greeted them warmly with fire from Old Betsy. General Proctor, commanding 500 British regulars and 800 of Tecumseh's Indians, replied with a salvo Despite orders from Gen. William Henry Harrison, Croghan, then 21, refused to surrender the fort.

Cannon fire between the two forces continued through much of the night, with Croghan moving Old Betsy from one position to another to make the foe believe his fort was not vulnerable from any angle.

Deducting from a concentration of fire that the enemy was attempting to weaken the fort's northwest corner in preparation for attack, Croghan moved his lone cannon to that quarter under cover of darkness and installed it behind a masked porthole.

Driven Back by 'Old Betsy.'

Intermittent rifle fire continued through Aug. 2 with no serious threat of attack The onslaught came just at dusk when the fort was enveloped in smoke.

Two feints were made toward the south, and suddenly 350 men under Colonel Shortt bore down to within 20 paces of the northwest corner.

Croghan's cannoneers waited tensely until the charge reached a small gully, then the porthole was ripped from in front of Old Betsy. Loaded with a half charge of powder and a double portion of slugs and grapeshot, Betsy sprayed demoralizing death into the advancing column.

Colonel Shortt rallied his men, but they were met by galling musketry. Shortt, a lieutenant, and 40 privates were left dead in the ditch and 26 prisoners were captured.

The siege roared for half an hour before the attackers retreated toward Lake Erie.

Total loss to the enemy was 150 dead or wounded The Americans reported only one death and seven wounded.

Old Betsy, lost for years after the battle, finally was discovered in a Pittsburgh armory, and in 1852, it was placed in Fort Stephenson park.

In 1906 the body of Major Croghan was brought here from the family burial plot near Louisville, Ky., and re-interred on the site of his victory. Adjoining the park, a large, modern high school now stands where ground was broken for British graves after the battle.

Major Norman A. Imrie, Columbus newspaperman, is to deliver the principal address at tomorrow's celebration A parade has been arranged, and an historical pageant with a cast of 450

SOCIETY & CLUBS

WEDDINGS IN AUGUST ADD SOCIAL INTEREST

Month May Rival June With Prominent Nuptials; Six Couples Have Already Revealed Plans; Schedule Other Affairs.

ALTHOUGH June has always held honors as the month of weddings, August, it appears, will offer some rivalry in Mansfield if present indications are a reliable index for the month. One nuptial affair scheduled is is a marriage which will unite a Galion girl and a Mansfield man. The betrothed are Miss Ruth Boehm and Charles Huck, South Mulberry street.

Most popular wedding date of the month so far will be Aug. 20. Miss Virginia Kurrich, West Second street, and Donald L. Snyder, Lexington, Miss Aileen Rockenbach, Erie, Pa., (former Mansfielder), and Robert E. Blosser, Gates Mills, and Miss Carol Flint, Braintree, Mass., and Lawrence Frank, Mansfield, have all selected this date.

The first couple to plan an August wedding are Miss Ardell Bohler, Marion, and Robert B. Gordon, 600 Park avenue west, who will be wed Aug. 13. Last wedding of the month yet announced will be the marriage of Heloise Moore, Ashland, to Edwin Fensch, 176 Newman street. The ceremony will be performed Aug. 27.

In addition to the weddings and the attendant pre-nuptial affairs, there will also be a number of outdoor parties and routine club sessions. One of the more interesting events planned for this week is the tea being given by Richland county Republican women in honor of Mrs. Robert Taft, Cincinnati, Wednesday.

Garden, clubs, church organizations, social and philanthropic sororities and small social organizations are offering a variety of activities during the next 30 days also.

* * *

Mrs. Minnie Mollohan and daughters, Edith, Anna and Marie, 536 South Main street ,and Mrs. William Harbaugh and son James, Crestline, have just returned from a week's motor trip to Washington, D. C., and other eastern cities.

Several Parties Given For Out-of-Town Guest

A series of small parties have been given in the past fews days in honor of Mrs. Pliny Pipes, University Heights. Mrs. A. J. Knight, Woodhill road, who is Mrs. Pipes' hostess, started the affairs with a bridge Thursday.

Friday Mrs. Pipes was entertained at a luncheon at the home of Mrs. W. D. Abrahms, 72 Glenwood boulevard, and at a bridge party in the evening for which Mrs. C. V. Marks, Woodhill road, was hostess. She was assisted by Mrs. Fred L. Wolf. A small picnic supper party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Bovard, Woodhill road, Saturday.

Mrs. Leathers Guest Of Honor At Shower

A bride of recent date, Mrs. Robert Leathers, was guest of honor at a recent miscellaneous shower at the home of her sister-in-law in Windsor. Hostesses were Miss Kathryn Sheets and Mrs. Robert Darling, jr.

During the evening the guests hemmed towels for the honoree and a buffet style luncheon was served. The hostesses presented a bedspread to Mrs. Leathers, who was Miss Mary Backensto before her marriage.

CLASS OF 1927.

A covered-dish dinner and reunion was held Saturday evening at South Park by members of the class of 1927 of Mansfield Senior high school. A business meeting was held and plans were made to have annual reunions. Miss Thelma Reed is chairman of the new committee, and she will be assisted by members of the former committee augmented by some new appointees. Those on the committee are Miss Frances Bein, John Hall, William Druschell, Miss Helen Widders, Mrs. Paul Hartman and Ford Linzee, former chairman.

CLUB REUNION.

There were more than 20 present yesterday at the Schrack cabin, Millsborough road, for the annual reunion of the Eureka Birthday club. The afternoon was spent in playing games and bridge and a picnic supper was served. There were both Mansfield and Bucyrus guests present. The next meeting will be Aug. 17 with Mrs. Lester Bauer, Little Washington.

CHURCH ASKS OK ON MORTGAGE

Tabernacle Seeks Authority of Court to Borrow $5,000.

Seeking court authority to mortgage church property for $5,000 to obtain a loan for payment of indebtedness, trustees of the Glad Tidings tabernacle, today had filed their request in common pleas court

The petition states that the church board voted to ask for a loan at a meeting July 21, authorizing Rev. J. A. Wilkerson, chairman of the board, to file the court action.

The church recently completed work on a basement assembly hall, the first unit of a new church structure on Glessner avenue near General hospital.

Light weight woolens, so light their weights are comparable to crepes, will be used to a great extent in the new fall frocks.

Rural Carriers Launch Mail Box Clean Up Campaign.

Rural carriers operating out of the Mansfield post office will join in the national observance of "Clean Up Rural Box Month" during August, Postmaster Herman E. Homberger said today.

Although carriers are on the lookout for faulty mail boxes at all times, they have been instructed to observe each box on their routes this month and report to the post office any faulty ones, Homberger said. Notices to make repairs will then be served on the owners.

Postal officials urge rural patrons to have boxes painted either white or aluminum, mounted erectly and of the proper type.

Failure to comply with the postal rules may cause suspension of mail service until the box is properly put into shape, Homberger added.

MEASLES LEADS, REPORT SHOWS

It's Most Prevalent of Communicable Diseases in County.

Measles continued to be the most prevalent of the communicable diseases in Richland county, exclusive of Mansfield and Shelby during June, the monthly report of Dr. Roy C. Rehder, city-county health commissioner, shows.

His report, presented to the county board of health Saturday afternoon reveals that 14 cases of measles were recorded during June to bring the total to 682 since Jan. 1. Five cases of smallpox were discovered while the report also listed three cases of whooping cough, two of scarlet fever and one each of chicken pox, malaria, mumps and typhoid fever.

Births in the county were listed at 18 for a total of 149 since the first of the year while 17 deaths were shown to bring that total to 121.

CHIPPENDALE CHAIRS

Chippendale chairs have been called a perfect portrait of the upstanding, stout in the legs, broad in the seat, straight in the back and square shouldered English country gentleman.

COUPLE UNITED IN MARRIAGE SATURDAY

Miss Martha Alice Shook Becomes Bride of William Walter Farrar, Jr., Oberlin, In Solemn Ceremony at First M. E. Church.

AN ALTAR banked with two tall beauty vases of white gladioli and larkspur, palms and ferns and two seven-branch candelabra was the scene Saturday at 6:30 p. m. of the marriage of Miss Martha Alice Shook and William Walter Farrar, jr. The ceremony was read at the First Methodist Episcopal church with Rev. Earl R. Brown officiating.

Miss Shook, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Tingley Shook, 97 Sherman avenue, was given in marriage by her father. Mr. Farrar is the son of William Walter Farrar, sr., Oberlin, and Mrs. Emma Farrar, Elyria.

The bride wore a simple white crepe street-length dress with a white wide-brimmed hat. Her bouquet was also white and made in the colonial style. Mr. and Mrs. Farrar were unattended.

Mrs. David Ireland played "My Love Is Like a Red, Red Rose," "Liebestraum" and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life." During the ceremony "I Love You Truly" was played softly.

A dinner for the families was served at the Susie Janis home after the ceremony. Covers were laid for 15 guests. Mr. and Mrs. Farrar left for a short motor trip after the dinner. They will make their home in Oberlin after Sept. 1.

Mrs. Farrar was graduated from Mansfield Senior high school and from the Frances Payne Bolton School of Nursing of Western Reserve university. She was employed as a nurse in the student clinic at Oberlin college. Mr. Farrar is associated with Worchester dairy at Oberlin.

WHAT PRICE PETTING?

Petting Ends Period Of Courtship

This is another in the series of articles on petting being presented on The News-Journal Woman's Page by the famous authority on problems of love and marriage, Beatrice Fairfax. In these articles Miss Fairfax tells the whys and wherefores of modern youth's "psychological revolution" in regard to petting, and discusses the fundamental dangers of petting along with the attitudes of both the old and young.

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage.

Dating has thrown overboard what used to be known to preceding generations as courtship.

Whether we approve the change or not, parents, teachers, pastors—and all the rest of us who have the well-being of youth at heart—have got to face this new order of things.

Johnny and Frankie, petting on the back seat of an automobile, may not be important in themselves; but as the spearhead of a revolution in behavior, they are highly important. Worried mothers and fathers will tell you the automobile is responsible for the break-up in morals of our young people. And there is no denying that the young man's automobile often means freedom from chaperonage. And youth has taken full advantage of it.

Novels of only a genration ago dealt with coyness and coquetry as woman's unfailing power to charm. Young men were described as chivalrous and "no gentleman would take an unfair advantage." Behavior today is heartier. Girls are held as responsible as men for what happens as the result of petting. The piquant and evasive sentimentality of yesterday is often regarded as Victorian.

"The Date," equally with the automobile, is held responsible for bringing about this social revolution, in the opinion of a good many authorities who have given the subject close study. Willard Waller, a professor of sociology at Barnard college, says that courtship is a process to induct young people into marriages by a series of commitments. According to the same authority, "dating is not true courtship, since it is supposed not to eventuate in marriage. It's a sort of dalliance relationship."

The old distinction that men have made from the beginning or as long as we have any record of human behavior, between good and bad women, is vanishing. Men still, however, draw a sharp line between the kind of girl they like to date and the kind of girl they intend to marry. In a recent survey on the behavior of college students, these young men have written in answer to a questionnaire that they would have no objection to a wife who has experimented with sex.

Between these young men of high school and college age, who are a little lightheaded with youth, freedom from restraint and the lure of sex, and the young men of almost a decade older, who are in a position to marry, one finds a considerable change in the point of view.

These older men, who in all probability have had their fling and are considering marriage, homes and children, have a more sober point of view than the adolescents. They are less favorable to the girl who has experimented and has had sex experience.

Generations of great-great-grandfathers will have asserted themselves in their descendent who is about to seek a wife; heritage that a woman who has been an experimenter will always be an experimenter.

It is for girls who clamor noisily for the single standard and recklessly defy tradition to indulge in pre-marital relations, to consider well this question. The arguments of the young "hot-bloods," who are in no position to marry, and the more sober opinion of men who are considering marriage pose a choice in which there should be no choice.

My Neighbor Says:

When making small cakes or buns, flour the tins well instead of greasing them. The cakes will never stick to the tin.

When using pastry flour in cooking, use a little more than when using bread flour. Bread flour thickens a little stiffer than pastry flour.

When making cream sauce or using flour for thickening, if you use pastry flour it will mix easier and there will be less danger of its lumping than if you use bread flour.

Ferns will be improved by washing away all the soil before they are repotted, the repotting being done with a good compost such as a florist can supply. Good drainage is important and soil should be pressed firmly into place.

Want to be able to unmold cornstarch pudding easily? Add a tablespoon of butter to the mixture just before it is removed from the stove. Be sure, too, to rinse the molds with cold water, just before you fill them.

To keep a coffee pot sweet and clean, put a tablespoon of bicarbonate of soda into it, fill it nearly full of water and let it boil for a little while. Then rinse very thoroughly with warm water several times. This should be done once a week.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

For a paralyzed fraction of a second after I heard the ping of the bullet, I neither spoke nor moved. There was upon me the awful dread that Dicky might have been the recipient of that swift death messenger. Then, as one of the guards walking just behind Harry and Dicky, who were carrying Queen Olga into the kitchen, called out in anguish, "I'm shot!" and clapped his hand to his side, I woke to the necessity for immediate action.

"Look out for the roof!" I cried clearly. "He's up there!"

Even as I spoke, I sank to my knees, pulling my mother-in-law with me. Katie, evidently obeying another of her "detectatuff correspondence school" maxims, was already down on the floor.

We had moved only just in time, for there came the soft ping of another bullet from a silencer-equipped revolver, which fortunately did not hit any one of us, but buried itself in the woodwork of the porch.

"Don't stand up!" I whispered warningly. "Creep along the floor until you get inside."

"Brave Vomans."

They obeyed me without speaking, and once we were within the shelter of the house, I voiced my remorse.

"If I hadn't proposed this mad scheme of seeing things from the balcony, I wouldn't have exposed you to this danger, Mother!" I said.

"Help me up, and don't talk nonsense," she retorted, then added spiritedly:

"I wouldn't have missed a second of it for anything."

"Dot's de stoof. You vun brave old voman."

Katie's voice, as she helped me lift my mother-in-law to her feet, was highly commendatory, and, to my great surprise, the elder woman did not wither her with either word or glance.

"Thank you, Katie," she said graciously, and I guessed that my faithful maid nearly dropped her in her astonishment.

But as soon as she was restored to a standing stature, I turned for the flight which I had only delayed to be assured that both my companions were safe.

"Will you and Katie go downstairs now, Mother, and see what you can do?" I asked. "Only do not go out-of-doors."

"We are not wholly crazy," my Meesis Graham, stop! Don't do what are you going to do?"

"I have an errand that must be attended to at once," I replied, turning away and getting out of the door as rapidly as possible. As I went I pretended not to hear Katie's anguished cry of "Pleese Meesis Graham—stop! Don't do dot"! But I knew that she had guessed my "errand".

Goes After Gun-Wielder.

I hoped that the mission I had given her to take care of my mother-in-law would keep her so engaged that she would not be able to come after me, but I knew it was a toss-up whether the impulse to obey me or the one to look after me would triumph.

But I had no time to think of her. All my thoughts, as I raced down the corridor, were focussed on one thing. Some way I must reach the roof and find out whether the unknown wielder of the revolver was still up there, or if he had gone, in which direction was his sinister figure fleeing.

From outside I could hear the sounds of a hastily-organized man hunt as the state troopers and the private guards in the cordon around the house flung themselves into action.

If I could but do something to aid them! I breathed the petition as I hurried into my room, and took from its hiding place my own little silencer-equipped pistol.

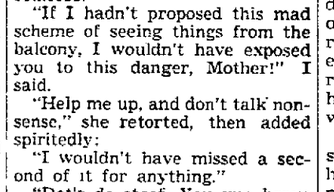
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay
"The Authority on Authorities"

GIVING AS A FINE ART

One of the gentlest and most subtle arts of bridge is the timing of your gifts. If you must deliver to the opponents a certain trick in a certain suit, the big question is when. Doing it at the correct stage can serve all sorts of different purposes which help you to record pleasing figures on the score pad.



(Dealer: West. East-West vulnerable.)

West and North passed on this deal and East bid 1-Spade. South came in with 2 hearts, West 2-Spades, North 3-Hearts, East 3-Spades and South 4-Hearts.

West refused to open the spade suit, figuring one of the opponents was possibly blank, so led the club 7. East won with the A and followed with the club J to South's K. A diamond was played to the A, on which East played the 9. The heart 3 came next, East playing the 10 and South the Q. A diamond to the K was played to give South a chance to come through East's heart holding. East took the trick with the A. Now, if he could put West in for a diamond return, he could ruin South's game. He took a chance by underleading his spade A. West won with the K and returned a diamond, which East ruffed with the heart J.

Dealer can stop the ruff, by discontinuing diamonds when he sees the signal start and instead give up the spade. Then when East or West wins and leads a spade, South can ruff and draw East's last trump.

Tomorrow's Problem.

Quick Aids For Scraggly Finger Nails

By MME. QUI VIVE

Depend upon it, if old friends are passing through your town, want you to join them at dinner, it will be on a day when your curlys are scraggly and your fingernails likewise. Always thus. The phone clangs. There's a familiar voice. Hurry, hurry, get into your duds. Join the wayfarers, see 'em off on the night train.

Out comes the old curling iron to put the rolls in shape. No time for finger waves and ringlets. And what about claws? You may have been digging in the garden, making jelly or having a heavenly messy day pulling everything out of the kitchen cabinets. Nails look like all get out. That's the way it goes. That's life for you.

You're glad you blew yourself for the practical manicuring outfit, not one of those fancy affairs, but reliable, high-grade tools that work quickly. Get busy with the flexible nail file after you have removed the old polish with polish remover. The metal file works quickly, but it doesn't finish the job. So you slide the orange-wood stick beneath the nail eaves, bring out some tough under-tissue, fluff it away with the emery board. So far, so good.

* * *

After the filing you scrub your little mitts with warm soap suds and a stiff brush, working vigorously on the nails. Don't make the mistake of filing before soaking. The next step is a touch of oil on each nail—olive oil or cuticle cream will do—and a gentle working up of the cuticle, which must not adhere to the nail base if you are to be free of those maddening torments known as hangnails.

If you've fluffed up any rags or shags, snip them away with the needle-point scissors, be careful when you do it. A wound invites infections, don't forget that.

Dip the orange-wood stick in nail white, run it under the nail eaves. Or, if you prefer, use a nail white pencil. The pencil isn't as messy as the paste, it forms a clear outline.

* * *

All that should not take 10 minutes, if you have practiced at the job before. Another scrubbing is due. If oil remains on the nail surfaces, polish won't stick. Rinse and dry the hands. Get out the new nail polish, which we hope is not bright red because that's old stuff, as done-for as Julius Caesar.

Apply the veneer with light strokes of the brush from nail base to nail edge. Whether or not the eave is left clear is your own particular business. Personally we think it should be. The covered cave suggests covered neglect. Don't use so much polish that it trickles into the cuticle. Touch the backs of the hands with perfume.

You're all set to go.

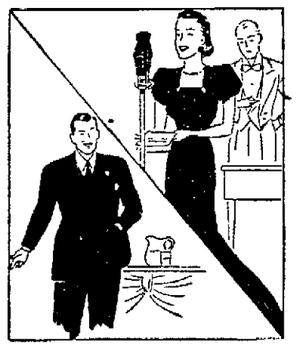
Learn to Express Ideas Easily, Effectively.



Do you watch others take the lead in club and social affairs? Keep grand ideas bottled up because you're afraid of your own voice?

You can win admiration, gain poise and confidence if you know how to speak in public.

How to learn? Practice at home by thinking out loud. Try to put color and vitality into your simplest sentences.

Know your subject, whether it's a new game you're explaining at a party or a club paper on civic improvements.

Concentrate on your audience. You might begin: "How happy I am that you have honored me with this expression of your confidence."

You might end: "I am sure you will help, for you know, too, that 'United we stand — divided we fail.'" Saying "fail" instead of "fall" fixes your conclusion in your hearers' mind.

Develop your natural magnetism. Follow the pointers in our 32-page booklet on club, forum, dinner, and party talks.

Diary of a Fashion Model

By GRACE THORNCLIFFE

I'M HAVING a grand time on this trip, thanks, principally, to that lovely movie star. Some of the nicest passengers aboard are at her table, and so I'm right in! She has a lovely suite, and I've spent quite some time with her. She showed me her wardrobe, and I gave her some advice about her clothes, such as eliminating certain items, changing other things so that they would harmonize better. She must have thought that I possessed good clothes sense, for she did exactly as I told her.

When she discovered that I not only knew Consuelo, but that we shared an apartment, she was delighted. It seems that Consulo is a great favorite of hers, although she has never met her. She saw her show when she returned from Europe last autumn, but had to leave for Hollywood the next day, so she did not have a chance to meet her. I told her it was very likely that Consuelo would meet me at the boat and go on to Paris with me. Well, that decided her. She had intended going to London first, but she says now that she will go to Paris instead. I don't know exactly how Eileen and Consuelo will like it, but there isn't much I can do about it.

This is just about the nicest crossing I've had. The ship is full, but not overcrowded. The food is marvelous, so is the weather. I've met some delightful people, and there are two very nice men who have been giving me quite a whirl. One is a song writer, the other an engineer; both very different types, but both charming. An old beau of the movie star is on the ship, and wherever she goes she falls over him and doesn't like it a bit.

Well, shipboard is no place for a costume like the one in the sketch, but I like it just the same. The short slacks are of oyster white linen with navy blue embroidery on pockets, waistband and band across the bust. They are cut like long slacks but are knee-length. With the slacks is worn a navy blue linen blouse. It is grand for country or seashore wear.

HOROSCOPE

For Tuesday, Aug. 2.

A particularly lively day is forecast from the predominate astral influences. There may be much merriment that may be marred by a lovers' quarrel. Business should be brisk. Writing and publicity also should thrive. Tact and strategy may be desirable in "tight" places.

If This Is Your Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a very lively year, with much festivity, though it might be well to "keep the brakes on," as there is indication of violence and unruliness. Generally, however, matters should flourish.

A child born on this day may be lively and energetic, but possibly wayward. It may be full of fun and like parties. It should be quite popular.

Only two forms of the iris will readily grow in water or in very wet sand. One is iris pseudacorus, the wild flag of Europe, with a beautiful yellow bloom. The other is the native flag. The Japanese iris likes water near at hand into which it can strike its roots, but will not survive long unless it has good drainage. The two forms mentioned, however, will grow even when standing in water. It is because many persons are familiar with this fact that they think all forms of the iris need a damp situation and thus make a serious mistake when planting the bearded irises, which detest such an environment. Most irises can be planted now, although it may be wise to wait a week or two before moving the Japanese iris.

Delicious Biscuits For Teas

By ALICE LYNN BARRY

The afternoon tea party is always with us. It is an event that has become a fixture with many of us. For many years it was in abeyance, but has come back to favor. And tea always means tasty biscuits.

Orange biscuits are delicious. To make a trial batch, beat one-half cup butter with cup of sugar, then add grated rind of one orange, one beaten egg, two tablespoons orange juice, and sieve in sufficient self-raising flour to make a soft paste—about two cups. Roll out fairly thick on a floured board, cut into rounds and brush with white of eggs. Sprinkle with chopped almonds, and bake.

Ginger Biscuits.

Ginger biscuits are liked by everyone, even the man who insists that he never touches desserts or sweet dishes. To make a batch, cream together one-quarter pound butter and one-half pound sugar; add one pound flour, enough ground ginger to flavor and two cups water. Roll this paste out thinly, cut into round or fancy shapes, and bake on well-greased tin. When biscuits are done, brush over with beaten egg, and leave on a sieve to cool.

Chocolate biscuits, perhaps the most popular of all biscuits, are easy to make. Sift five ounces flour, one ounce rice flour, two ounces cocoa or powdered chocolate and one-half teaspoon baking powder together. Cream three ounces butter with three ounces sugar, add an egg and a few drops of vanilla essence, and work in the flour until the dough can be kneaded. Roll out, dredge powdered sugar over top before cutting biscuits. Prick all over, and bake in moderate oven 15 to 20 minutes.

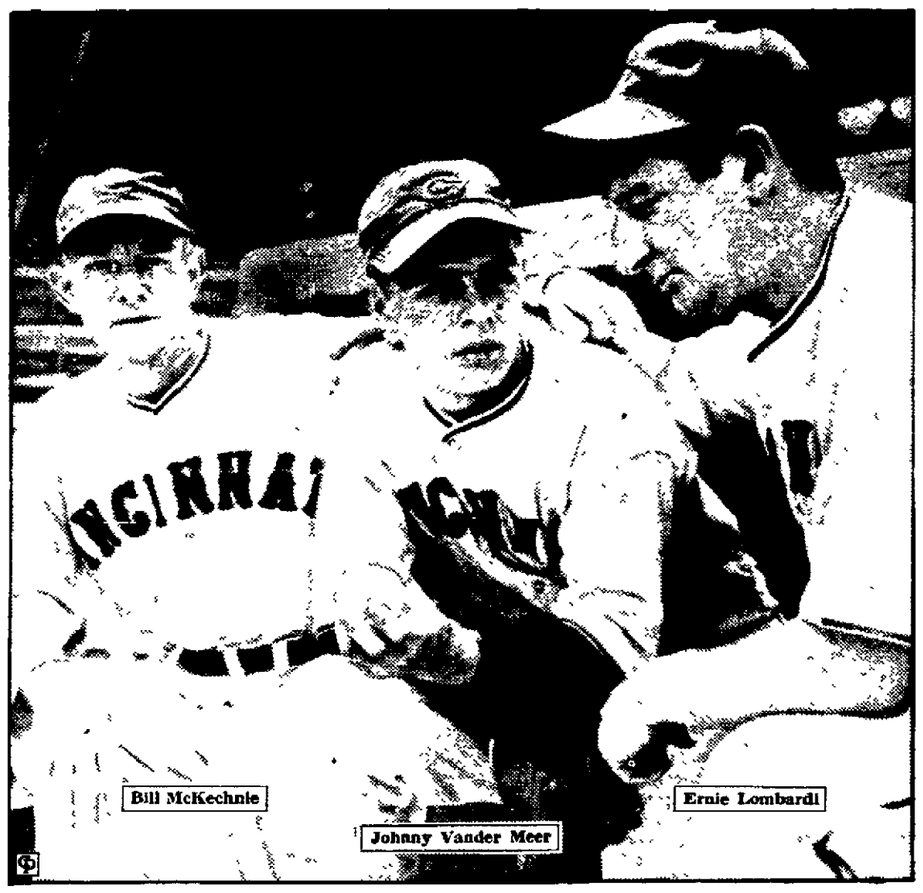
KEEPS OHIO'S NATIONAL LEAGUE ENTRY IN TITULAR RACE

Paul Derringer . . . comes to life



Bill McKechnie

Johnny Vander Meer

Ernie Lombardi

Frank McCormick

Here are five reasons why the Cincinnati Reds are figuring prominently in the current National league race. The pitching of Johnny Vander Meer and Paul Derringer has been sensational, the catching and hitting of Ernie Lombardi has been consistent, the hitting of Frank McCormick has been spectacular, and the managerial strategy employed by Bill McKechnie has been brilliant. Without these the Reds would probably be just another ball club.

Feller Closes Series

Senators Held Over Today To Prevent Necessity Of Twin-Bill On Next Trip.

CLEVELAND—(UP)—Bob Feller went after his 12th victory of the season here today as the Cleveland Indians played the final contest of a series with the Washington Senators.

Today originally was on open date on the schedule, but when rain forced postponement of yesterday's contest, the Senators were held over to prevent the necessity of playing a double-header on their next swing west.

By using Feller today Manager Oscar Vitt was forced to change pitching plans he had made for the crucial series later in the week with the third place Boston Red Sox and the league leading New York Yankees.

Feller according to current plans will not work against the Red Sox. Mel Harder and Johnny Allen will pitch in the first two contests with Denny Galehouse and Johnny Humphries slated for the others. Feller, Harder and Allen will go in that order against the Yanks.

The idleness yesterday cost Cleveland a full game in the pennant chase as the Yanks took two from Chicago. The Indians now trail by two games.

Fullager, Johns Park Attempt to Regain Winning Stride Today

JIMMY FULLAGER and the first half champion Johns park club will attempt to regain their winning stride today when they engage the Richland County Fish & Game club of North park at Johns park in a City Class A league game.

With Fullager on the mound, the Johnnies lost their first game of the second half and second of the season last week to Prospect, undefeated in the current half.

The defeat was the first league setback for the Johnnies' pitching ace, who had registered six straight victories up to last week.

Fullager will be on the hillock today, but has a good-sized job confronting him in the Sportsmen, who are just as anxious to win as the Johnnies.

The winner of this game has a chance to crawl into a tie for first place should the Prospect park entry lose to Liberty park in the tilt scheduled at the Prospect diamond.

Prospect is going great guns, and may be too powerful for Liberty, which has yet to register its first second half victory. The Prospectors have not been defeated since they dropped four in a row at the start of the first half.

Ted Frisbee or Al Stickler, whose relief pitching has featured the last two Prospect victories, will go to the mound, with Bush probably throwing for the Liberties.

Adolph Kiefer Declines Bid

Refuses To Accompany A.A.U. Team To Europe.

LOUISVILLE — (UP) — Adolph Kiefer of Chicago, who with Ralph Flanagan of Miami, monopolized honors at the National A. A. U. swimming, diving championships, declined membership today on the nine-man American team which leaves New York Friday to tour Europe. Kiefer declined the trip because it would keep him away from his job too long.

Bill Neunzig of Ohio State was chosen in Kiefer's place for the backstroke event. Others chosen by the A. A. U. committee were Three-meter dive, Al Patnik Ohio State, platform dive, Elbert Root Detroit A. C., long-and-middle distances, Ralph Flanagan, breaststroke, Jim Wetson, San Francisco Olympic club, free-stylers (4), Peter Fick New York A. C. Takashi Hirose Hawaii A. A. U. Paul Woolf Southern California, Otta Jaretz Chicago.

Kiefer won the 220-yard freestyle and 300 meter individual medley titles as well as retaining his backstroke championship in the A. A. U. meet. He set a new American record of 4.02 in the medley event, cracking the 4.05.8 long course mark set by Buster Crabbe in 1931. Flanagan retained his three crowns, the one-mile 440-yard and 880-yard freestyle events.

Ohio State won the team title with a total of 30 points with the Detroit A. C., second with 25, Miami Biltmore club third, 15. Hawaii's A. A. U. team fourth 12 and Stockton, Calif. Olympic club, fifth, 10.

'Whizzer' Turns Pro

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—Coach Johnny Blood of the Pittsburgh pro football Pirates said today Byron "Whizzer" White, Colorado's All-American quarterback, had accepted an offer of $15,000 to play the 1938 season with the Pirates.

Blood said White told him in a telephone conversation he had arranged to delay until January his entrance at Oxford university, England, where he was awarded a Rhodes scholarship.

White agreed, the Pirate mentor said, to report at Loretto, Pa., the Pirates' training camp, on Aug. 10, four days after the opening of the team's practice sessions. Blood added that the contract would be signed at that time.

White asked permission to play with the college all-stars at Chicago next month, but Blood said it was not granted.

Australia, Japan Vie In Zone Finals

(By United Press)

Australia and Japan clash in the North American zone Davis Cup final at Montreal this week-end with the winner qualifying to meet Germany in the inter-zone final.

Australia rounded out a 5-0 triumph over Mexico at Kansas City yesterday duplicating the shutout Japan had handed Canada on Saturday. Germany won its way into the inter-zone final at Berlin.

The Nazi netmen were far from impressive in beating the Slavs. After Henner Henkel, Germany's No. 1 player, had lost his opening singles match on Friday with George von Metaxa, former Austrian star to win the doubles match on Saturday and give his country a 2-1 lead Henkel clinched it by beating Josip Pallada, 6-4, 7-5, 6-1, yesterday.

PLAY NEXT SUNDAY

Sunday's district softball games at League park, postponed because of rain, will be played next Sunday.

McCormick, 'Boy Who Couldn't Hit,' Pounds Out Four Safeties as Reds Tumble New York

NEW YORK (AP)—When the Cincinnati Reds left their Florida training base this spring one of the biggest question marks on the club was Frank McCormick at first base.

Numerous baseball experts predicted "Mac" and Bill McKechnie would have to abandon his youthful experiment as first baseman and send the veteran Babe Young Jordan to the post but the season was very old.

McCormick will never be a major league pitching was the chant of the critics.

Today as the season moves into the final third of the schedule McCormick stands out as one of the best young infielders to come up in many years and no one scoffs at his hitting ability now.

The Reds were forced to travel 11 innings here yesterday to take the final game of the series with the wobbly New York Giants by a 7 to 6 count.

McCormick the boy "who couldn't hit" pounded out four safeties in six trips to the plate to pace the Cincinnati attack. His single opened the Reds rally in the 11th and he scored the winning run when the New York infield fell apart and committed two errors.

McCormick's four hits yesterday boosted his seasonal total to 132 hits more than any other major league batsman has made. For 93 contests he has a handsome swat average of .335 to place him fourth among the hitters in the National league. One of the players ahead of him is his teammate Wally Berger, who has participated in 30 less games.

After tossing away the first two games of the series here when Johnny Vander Meer and Paul Derringer could not protect sizable leads the Reds almost duplicated the trick yesterday.

Bucky Walters started on the mound for Cincinnati and went into the Giant half of the eighth inning holding a 6 to 3 lead. When he walked the first two men up Ray (Peaches) Davis was rushed speedily to his aid.

Two intentional walks and singles by Sam Leslie and Jim Ripple accounted for three runs and deadlocked the game. After his wobbly start in the eighth Davis settled down and gave up only one hit the remainder of the way.

The Giants used three hurlers in a futile attempt to take the contest. Clyde Castleman started and was followed by Harry Gumbert and Walter Brown.

Cincinnati is not scheduled today. The Reds move into Philadelphia tomorrow to open a three-game series.

Yanks Strengthen Lead as Showers Keep Indians Idle

Pearson, Chandler Hurl New York to Pair of Wins at Chicago to Lengthen Advantage.

By ANTHONY J. PUGLIESE, INS Sports Writer.

NEW YORK—Armed with a two-game lead, the New York Yankees rested today before invading Detroit and Cleveland for the busiest week the American league has witnessed in many years.

Seeking their third straight pennant, the Yankees carry the fight to the bristling Tigers, who have won eight straight, before moving in on the Indians, who are determined to break the dominance of the McCarthymen in the wildest set of double-headers played this season.

It is a fair prediction to state that on the outcome of the Cleveland-New York series next week-end rests the pathway to the American league bunting.

Win In 15th.

The Yankees picked up a full game on the Indians, who were rained out of their contest with Washington, by taking a double bill from the Chicago White Sox, 5 to 1, on Monte Pearson's five-hitter, and 7 to 3 in a 15-inning brawl. Spud Chandler held the Sox to eight hits in the nightcap, the Yankees winning with a four-run splurge in the 15th.

In St. Louis, the Browns took a pair from the Boston Red Sox, 7-6 and 10-2 in a seven-inning game halted by rain. Red Kress hit a homer with the sacks loaded and George McQuinn also hit for the circuit in the nightcap. Jimmy Foxx blasted out his 29th homer. The Tigers and Philadelphia Athletics were washed out at the Motor City.

The Pittsburgh Pirates failed to better their league lead by dropping the opener of a scheduled twin bill, 4 to 3, to the Brooklyn Dodgers, while the New York Giants were topped by the Cincinnati Reds 7 to 6 in 11 frames. The Pirates-Dodgers nightcap was rained out. Dolph Camilli's two-run homer proved the margin of victory, while Rookie Johnny Rizzo hit homer No. 10 for Pittsburgh.

The Giants overcame a 6 to 3 deficit with three in the eighth but threw the game away in the 11th on two errors.

Danny MacFayden and Lou Fette turned in two stellar mound performances, each pitching the Boston Bees to a 3 to 2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. Danny gave eight bingles while Fette yielded seven.

Homer Beats Cubs.

Bill Atwood's 12th inning homer gave the Phillies a 6 to 5 triumph over the Chicago Cubs in the opener, but the Cubs came back to take the nightcap 4 to 3 in a game curtailed in the seventh by Pennsylvania's curfew law.

Revolta Sets Torrid Pace To Win Open

Cuts 12 Strokes Off Par To Win In St. Paul.

ST. PAUL, Minn.—(AP)—Johnny Revolta today owned a brand new check for $1,600 and his third major fairway triumph of 1938.

The wavy-haired professional from Evanston, Ill., who began playing golf as a caddie 15 years ago in Wisconsin, placed another notch to his clubs yesterday by capturing the $7,500 St. Paul open championship at the Keller course from a fast field which gave par a thorough battering.

Revolta's final two rounds of 71-68 for a 72 house aggregate of 276 or 12 under par was one stroke under the total of big Willie Goggin of San Bruno, Cal., runner-up a year ago. In third place was "Slamin' Sam" Snead of the White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., the defending champion, with a 278 total, followed by Ernie Harrison of Chicago at 279, Lawson Little of San Francisco at 280 and Frank Stuhler of Jamaica, N. Y., at 281.

Giggin won second money of $1,050, with Snead pocketing $800 to boost his leading season's money total to $9,412. Revolta's victory moved him from fourth place among the money winners for the year to second, with a $6,878 total.

Amateur honors went to Art Doering of Chicago with a 287 total.

TONY SUFFERS RELAPSE IN PNEUMONIA FIGHT

ORANGE, N. J.—(UP)—Tony Galento, ranking contender for the heavyweight boxing championship, has suffered a relapse in his two weeks' fight against pneumonia, Dr. Joseph E. High said today. His fever returned Sunday after two days of normal temperature, and the infected lobe of his left lung had not cleared. Visitors were still barred from his room.

Avenges Loss

ALICE MARBLE

Turns Back Dorothy Bundy to Win Sea Bright Tourney Third Straight Year.

SEA BRIGHT, N. J.—(AP)—The Sea Bright bowl passed today into the permanent possession of Blond Alice Marble, who promptly turned to her work of dress designing and a week's layoff from tournament tennis.

The San Franciscan, avenging her last year's loss to Dorothy Bundy in the national championships, turned back the Santa Monica girl in straight sets yesterday to win the women's championship of the Sea Bright invitation tournament for the third consecutive year.

Miss Marble paired with Harold Surface of Kansas City to win the mixed doubles crown—her third title of the tournament—over Bobby Riggs of Chicago and Mrs. Dorothy Andrus of New York. The scores were 6-3, 6-2. She and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan won the women's doubles championship Saturday from Mrs. Andrus and Mme. Slyvia Henrotin of France.

Completing the tournament competition yesterday, Sidney Wood of New York and Joe Hunt of Los Angeles captured the men's doubles title with an 8-6, 6-2, 8-6 victory over Chester and William Murphy, Chicago twins.

LOUIS IN CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND — (INS) — World's heavyweight champion Joe Louis was to appear here tonight as a ball player with his Detroit Brown Bombers in a softball game with the Cleveland Weaver Walis. Louis was expected to start at first base for the Bombers.

BOY WINS SHOOT

AKRON—(AP)—John Wray, tall 15-year-old Rochester, N. Y., schoolboy, today held the midwest all-bore skeet championship with a perfect score of 100. Carl Maust of Columbus won the professional title.

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Jackie Cooper, veteran Kansas City pilot, yesterday won the feature five-mile race in the Ohio Valley motorboat association meet, averaging 65 miles an hour.

DAYTON—(AP)—Mrs. James D. Platt jr., today held the Dayton women's golf championship with an upset 3 and 2 victory over Janet Shock, winner two weeks ago of the Ohio women's title at Akron.

Don Skeptic About Davis Cup Defense

NEW YORK — (INS) — Back on American soil after a European junket that covered two months, 65 matches and mileage to girdle the globe, Don Budge looks gaunt and tired today and is avowedly skeptical about the coming Davis cup defense.

He thinks Australia can beat America, in that respect is at odds—but only in that respect—with Gene Mako, his traveling companion and doubles partner.

OHIO DUCK SEASON EXTENDED TO 45 DAYS

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Ohio duck shooters are in for happy hunting this fall with the season extended from 30 to 45 days said State Conservation Commissioner Lawrence Wooddell today. General increase in waterfowl population warranted the Oct. 15-Nov. 28 season he said.

WIN STREAKS AT STAKE IN TOLEDO A. A. SERIES

TOLEDO —(AP)— Two winning streaks were at stake as the current "hot" teams of the American association—sixth place Toledo and seventh place Columbus—squared off today.

Toledo boasted of six in a row and Columbus five, all of the latter's at the expense of Indianapolis' erstwhile second place Indians. Rain yesterday washed out a double header between Columbus and Toledo.

SOFTBALL TOURNAMENT AGAIN GOES TO CHICAGO

CHICAGO—(AP)—The Amateur Softball association announced today the 1938 World's Amateur Softball Title tournament again would be held in Chicago, from Sept. 7 to 12. Final games will be played at night at Soldier Field. Eighty-eight teams, representing 41 states and Canada, won their way to the meet through elimination play last year.

Weekly News and Pictures of Mansfield Business

Stanton Offers New 'Perfect Protection' Policy

To meet today's insurance needs, men and women have been asking for "perfect protection," Ralph C. Stanton, Mansfield insurance broker, says.

This new insurance is an all-inclusive policy, which insures you for hospital bills from either accident, sickness or disease; pays you an income while sick or injured; pays your family when you die; and while permanently disabled, waives the payment of premiums.

"Perfect protection," Stanton explains, "is much lower in cost than if all the insurance is bought separately, because the entire coverage is delivered in one policy, with only one overhead and collection cost. And Perfect Protection does pay sickness and accident claims—not just promise to pay."

In April, May and June this year, over $74,000 was paid to 847 Perfect Protection policyholders, on sickness and accident claims only. Over $162,000 has been paid in the last six months, to 1746 claimants. Every few moments some Perfect Protection insured has a claim.

The Perfect Protection policy was originated by Reliance Life Insurance Company, one of the strongest life insurance companies in the nation, which is identified with the Mellon banking interests in Pittsburgh.

"With Perfect Protection," says Stanton, "you insure that your income will not be curtailed by any accident or sickness expense, as long as you live and earn, and when you die, that your family will keep right on getting income. Either you or your family will collect on Perfect Protection."

The Stanton insurance agency office is located at 416 Walpark building.

Finds LaSalle Blades Are Favorites with Shavers

Clerk at Shumaker's Drug Store Says They're One of Leading Sellers.

The LaSalle brand of razor blades has been one of the most successful products with buyers in recent years, according to R. L. Schiska, clerk at Shumaker's drug store, 14 Park avenue west.

"We have tested many brands which boasted of great merit, but the LaSalle blade is one of our leading sellers and the repeat orders have justified our faith in keeping a complete stock on hand at all times," Schiska says.

"In selling a man razor blades you cannot buy his patronage by forced selling, you must have a product that carries the merit of excellent manufacturing," Schiska adds. "The super-keen quality of the LaSalle blade has done much to give our customers guaranteed satisfaction."

A money back guarantee, backed 100 per cent by the LaSalle Razor Blade company, goes with every package of blades. The LaSalle blades are available in both single and double edge styles.

R. L. Schiska, clerk at Shumaker's drug store, 14 Park avenue west, is shown selling a package of LaSalle razor blades to G. O. Thompson of Mansfield.

Louis O. Black, president of the LaSalle company, says, "It is with pride that we offer men everywhere our LaSalle razor blades of all types as the greatest achievement in shaving comfort."

In some Mansfield stores the LaSalle blade has been a leading seller for years.

P. L. Remy, 45 Augustine avenue, is the authorized Mansfield distributor.

Provident Loan Service Meets Need For Funds

As open account and installment credit is extended, the need of supplementary funds to tide over periods of irregular income has been constantly increasing, the Mansfield Provident company, 18 West Third street, points out.

"Thus the value of having a place to borrow when it becomes necessary is important, and we meet this need with a loan service that has been extended over a period of many years," M. L. Anderson, general manager of Mansfield Provident says.

The company makes personal loans on their clients' own security and arranges for monthly payments in accordance with their income.

Mansfield Provident also acts to safeguard their patron's interests through its advisory department which is available to everyone.

Operating on a sound and conservative policy, the company aims to give prompt and efficient service for the purchase or payment of automobiles, diamonds, furniture, farm equipment, or other chattels, Mr. Anderson says.

UNIQUE GLASSES

They Enable You To See Beneath Eye Level.

BERLIN — (INS) — "Deck chair glasses" are the latest fad in Germany. Equipped with prisms the glasses enable you to see things beneath you without bending your head. You can lie down in a deck chair, look straight ahead through the glasses and yet read a bood which you hold in front of you, but not in front of your eyes. The glasses may also be used for adjusting your neck-tie without the aid of a mirror.

GRATEFUL FOR HEAT

FORT WAYNE, Ind. — (AP) — Judge Harry H. Hilgemann told John Headrick, 57, who was before him on an assault and battery charge, that 60 days in jail would be about the right sentence. Then he added: "The weather is so hot that I'm going to cut it down to 30 days."

U. S. Has Half World's Telephones

China, British India and Russia, which together have half the earth's population, have only three-fourth's as many telephones as New York City, a recent survey of telephone usage throughout the world showed.

With only six per cent of the world's population of 2,000,000,000 persons, the United States has a total of more than 19,500,000 telephones, or more than half of the world's telephones, the study shows.

Compared with the figure of 19,500,000 telephones for the United States, Germany has 3,431,074 telephones; Great Britain, 2,791,597; France, 1,481,788; Canada, 1,266,228 and Japan 1,197,129.

EXTRA MILEAGE

Rubber experts estimate tire users got $9.57 more value in extra mileage for their money in 1937 than in 1929. Likewise the worker who made the tire is receiving a 36 per cent higher hourly wage rate and the tire is assessed 70 cents more in taxes than in 1929.

UNUSUAL KNIFE

20-Bladed Affair Found In Old Newspaper Locker

SALEM, Mass. — (INS) — An old-fashioned knife recently was unearthed from an employe's locker at a Salem newspaper. Although three blades are missing, the knife still has a nail file, screwdriver, paper punch, corkscrew, drill, pencil, combination tweezer and spoon, small saw, hooked blade, scissors, bone toothpick, buttonhook, fork, bodkin, and short and long cutting blades.

Cooling Drinks Are Summer Favorites

By PAULINE SCHOFIELD
Home Service Department of the Ohio Fuel Gas Company.

"Lovely to look at"—and so perfectly satisfying too! The variety of colorful beverages that you can serve your guests or family depends only upon your imagination. Some like them sweet; some like them tart . . . but, in summertime, 'most everyone prefers them very cold! Here are some ideas for beverages which are simple to prepare and are truly delicious.

Frosted Rhubard Fizz.

2 cups water
4 cups diced rhubarb
½ cup sugar
1 pint vanilly ice cream
Carbonated water.

Add the water to the rhubarb and cook until tender. Pour through a sieve and press out all of the juice. Add sugar to the juice and stir until dissolved. The amount of sugar will depend upon the tartness of the rhubarb. Cool. Place the ice cream in tall glasses and add the rhubarb juice. Fill the glasses with carbonated water. Serves six.

Cocoa Nog.

½ cup cocoa
⅓ to ½ cup sugar
½ cup water
Few grains salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs
5 cups milk

Cook the cocoa, sugar, water and salt together for about three minutes, stirring constantly. Add the vanilla and chill. Beat the egg yolks until thick and stir in the milk gradually. Add the cocoa syrup and beat until smooth. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites and pour into tall glasses. Serves six.

Grape Orange Punch.

½ cup sugar
12 whole cloves
1 small stick cinnamon
¼ teaspoon allspice
2½ cups water
1 pint grape juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 pint orange ice

Combine sugar, cloves, cinnamon, allspice, water and grapejuice. Stir over low heat until the sugar is dissolved. Cover and let simmer for about 15 minutes. Cool, strain and add lemon juice. Place the orange ice in tall glasses and fill with spiced grapejuice. If desired, fill about 2-3 full with grapejuice and add carbonated water. Serves six to eight.

Cherry Buttermilk.

1 No. 2 can or 2½ cups cooked red cherries
4½ cups buttermilk

Press the cherries through a sieve and sweeten to taste. Chill and add cherry pulp and juice to the buttermilk. Mix well and pour into tall glasses.

Apricot Strawberry Milk.

1 No. 2½ can apricot halves
3½ cups milk
½ cup sliced strawberries

Press the apricots through a sieve and chill. Add apricot pulp and juice to the milk and mix well. Pour into glasses and add strawberries. Serves six.

Cuban Punch.

3 bananas
3 cups unsweetened grapefruit juice
6 tablespoons sugar
Chipped ice
1 pint orange, lemon or pineapple ice
Fresh mint

Peel bananas and mash through a potato ricer. Add chilled grapefruit juice and sugar and stir until well blended. Fill tall glasses about ¼ full with chipped ice, add the orange, lemon or pineapple ice and the banana mixture. Garnish with fresh mint. Serves six.

Flour should be measured at the time it is to be used. If it is allowed to stand it will pack down and accurate measurements will not be possible.

Use maple syrup or strained honey as sweetening for fruit punches in summer. Add a little strained rhubarb juice to your favorite fruit punch recipe.

Shimmering Mold For Salad Meal

2 tablespoons gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1 can canned grapefruit segments
½ cup granulated sugar
1 package cream cheese.
2 dozen canned red or white cherries or fresh red cherries
2 dozen almonds
Juice of 1 lemon
Mayonnaise
Lettuce

Soak gelatin in the cold water for five minutes. Cook the sugar, and juice drained from grapefruit until dissolved. Add lemon juice and gelatin. Strain. Add grapefruit segments. Fill a cold wet ring mold half full with grapefruit jelly mixture. Let stand in the refrigerator until it begins to thicken. Form the cheese into small balls about an inch in diameter. When the jelly in the mold has begun to set arrange these balls of cheese at regular intervals in the mold. Add the rest of the gelatin mixture and chill until perfectly stiff. When ready to use unmold on a bed of lettuce. Pit the cherries and stuff with blanched almonds. Fill the center of the grapefruit mold with the cherries and any leftover grapefruit segments. Garnish with mayonnaise. Serves 6 to 8.

Put Glamour Into Mid-Summer Meals With Colorful Menus

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE
(AP Feature Service Writer)

Put glamour into your midsummer meals by serving salads that are cool and colorful.

But don't just throw together all the greens you can find, sprinkle them with French dressing and consider the job done. And don't cut up all the spare fruit in the ice-box, either, mix in a little mayonnaise and whipped cream and serve two heaping spoonsful to everyone.

So many food combinations can be used in salads you should always be able to think up a new treat for the table.

A Banana Suggestion.

Here's one — banana surprise. Cut bananas in half lengthwise, spread one half with a filling of raspberry jam and cheese, then replace the other half, sandwichwise. Dip each banana into salad dressing, then roll it in chopped nuts. Serve on shredded lettuce or watercress.

Here's another: Stuff tomatoes with a savory crab salad. Then put each tomato into a custard cup, cover it with lemon gelatin and chill. Unmold the whole shiny tidbit on lettuce and top it with salad dressing or mayonnaise mixed with a little chili sauce.

Or you can serve salad sandwiches. Chill well-seasoned tomato gelatin in a one-inch sheet until it is stiff, then cut it into two-inch squares. Put two squares together with a filling of cottage or cream cheese mixed with green peppers, salad dressing and chopped olives. One sandwich on crisp salad greens makes a satisfying portion. Add a dash of mayonnaise.

Make the most of seafood salads. Mix equal parts of salmon and lobster (freshly-cooked or canned). Blend the seafood with hard-cooked egg slices diced celery and chopped sweet pickles. (All fish salads need a taste of sweet pickle.) Add a little mayonnaise and chill. Pile the mixture on inch-thick slices of tomato arranged on crisp lettuce. Garnish with stuffed eggs.

Dressing Varieties.

Your salad dressing often is the keynote to your success with salads. Try putting a little horseradish in the dressing for a salad of ham and hard-cooked eggs. Use a mixture of cream cheese and boiled dressing on frozen fruit salads. Roquefort cheese crumbled in a savory French dressing is excellent with a salad of fresh sliced vegetables.

Want to keep your salad dressing stiff in hot weather? Soak one tablespoon of granulated gelatin for five minutes in three tablespoons of cold water. Melt over boiling water. Cool. Add to three cups of boiled salad dressing. Chill. Your salad dressing will then stand up. You may also mold it into individual shapes and serve them on top of your salads when mealtime comes.

Additional salad hints:

Egg white cases make novel containers for fish paste, salad dressing, cheese or relish mixtures. Cut the eggs in half. Remove and mash the yolks and combine them with the food and seasonings to be used in filling the egg cases. Serve the cases as garnishes for fish, meat, chicken and vegetable salads.

Ripe olives lend a distinctive flavor to meat, fish, vegetable or pear salads. Add a few chopped or sliced olives to the salad itself—or put them in the dressing.

Celery Salt

Want to make your own celery salt for flavoring soups and stews? Dry celery leaves in a very slow oven or on back of the stove, then crumble them and add to equal portions of table salt.

Fruit Dressing

Add a beaten egg white to mayonnaise to be used in fruit salads. The egg white should be added just before serving time.

Rubber gloves are a great protection when doing garden or house work. They must be treated carefully, however, as soon as you have finished your work, wash the gloves, on your hands. Then pull them off, wrong side out, rinse and hang them up to dry.

Top baked sliced ham with a mixture of one cup of brown sugar, one teaspoon of dry mustard and half a cup of vinegar. Spread the mixture on top of the ham just before you put it into the oven.

No Need For Dingy Kitchen In Home

There's no need today to put up with a dingy kitchen or to wield the scrubbing brush there. Everything can be washable in the kitchen—paint, wallpaper, linoleum or other washable coverings for the walls; varnish, linoleum, or feltbase covering for the floors.

Bright accents of color, if you wish, can come from the paint pot. Housewares counters are full of attractive and colorful accessories, such as holders for scouring powder cans and for soap, canisters and dishtowels. Make your kitchen as modern, as quaint, or as gay as you wish. Your workshop can express your personality and be a place you'll love to work in.

Color Scheme.

An interesting color scheme, clever accessories, unusual window curtains, can lift the simplest kitchen into the realm of smartness. The kitchen at Good Housekeeping Institute which cost least to finish is most popular. It has a bright red scalloped board over the window, a matching bookshelf and even the ends of the towel rack tipped with red. These are the finishing touches that you are going to have fun with when you plan and work them out.

Dish Towel Daintiness.

Whatever the advantages of wiping dishes dry—and there are advantages—it is better to use the scalding and air-dry method than to dry them with unclean towels, experts insist. No dish can be cleaner than the towel with which it is wiped. The more absorbent the towel, the better breeding-place it is for bacteria, especially if hung near a hot stove to dry when it is moist and soiled.

Fresh towels should be used for each batch of washed dishes. If the dishes have been well-washed and the towels used for no other purpose than wiping, swishing in warm soapsuds and thorough rinsing, augmented by weekly boiling, is all they need. Always spread dish towels well on the rods to dry, or better still, hang them out of doors for a dose of sunshine and fresh air.

Mix Hot, Cold

Try serving a hot soup and a cool salad on hot summer days. Mushroom soup makes a good partner for fruit salad. Vegetable soup is tasty with salmon salad. Chowder makes a perfect complement for a cabbage-relish salad.

Freshen Cocoanut

To freshen dry cocoanut, soak the cocoanut for five minutes in enough milk to cover it. Then spread it thinly in a shallow pan and heat it for five minutes in a moderate oven. If you like toasted cocoanut, heat it until it turns a light brown.

Wash Shades

Want to wash your window shades? Remove the shades from the rollers and lay them on a flat surface. Brush off all the surface dust. Make up a good suds from mild soap and lukewarm water and apply to the shade with a soft brush. Scrub a small area at a time.

Then rinse it well with a cloth wrung out in lukewarm water. Dry thoroughly with a soft dry cloth. Continue until the shade is washed on both sides. Hang the shade up on the roller to dry, but do not roll it until it is thoroughly dry.

Thirst Quenchers

Spiced fruit punches are very refreshing on a hot day. To make them add one tablespoon of broken cloves and one and one-half cups of water for each cup of sugar. Boil this mixture together for four minutes. Then strain and cool it. You will have enough sweetening for six cups of fruit juices.

Protect Raincoats

Store raincoats away from the heat. When any tears appear in rubber coats mend them at once on the underneath side with rubber cement or place a piece of material under the tear and put it in place with a heavy glue.

Add food colorings very carefully. Remember that a little coloring goes a long way—and highly colored foods are not palatable.

"It Cost Me Only $1.04 a Month to Cook ELECTRICALLY" SAYS THIS MANSFIELD HOUSEWIFE!

"We Enjoy the Better Flavor of Foods--- The Cleanliness of Cooking Electrically And the Savings We Have Been Able to Make"

Says MRS. RALPH E. HUTT, 65 Clifton Ave.
OF HER WESTINGHOUSE REGENT RANGE

"It's too bad that so many homemakers still think an electric range is expensive to operate because they are just depriving themselves of the most convenient and modern cooking method . . . a cooking method that I know from experience is cleaner, cooler, more convenient and just as fast, if not faster, than any other method. I know my electric range was not costing me much because my electric bills had increased less than 24c per week after installing my range. I repeat that we enjoy the better flavor of foods now, the cleanliness and the economy of my electric range."

And here are Mrs. Hutt's electric service bills before and after installing her electric range:

BEFORE RANGE INSTALLATION 1936			AFTER RANGE INSTALLATION 1937

OSTERMOOR

ALL GUARANTEED REGULAR $42.50 Service Stripe INNERSPRING OSTERMOORS $29.85 EASY TERMS

You Save $12.65

You've been waiting for an Opportunity like this

. . . your chance to own a Genuine High Quality Ostermoor at A SAVING of $12.65 . . . We are proud to be able to offer you such a value . . . We may not be able to do it again.

Remember! The same GUARANTEED quality construction—the same thick Ostermoor-processed felt—the same hand-crafted tailoring—the same standard value you would willingly pay $42.50 for at any other time, is yours DURING THIS SALE at a wonderfully attractive special price.

WHILE THEY LAST!

YOUR UNRESTRICTED CHOICE OF PATTERNS AND COLORS in woven stripes, panel designs and several imported Belgian damasks. ALL STANDARD SIZES.

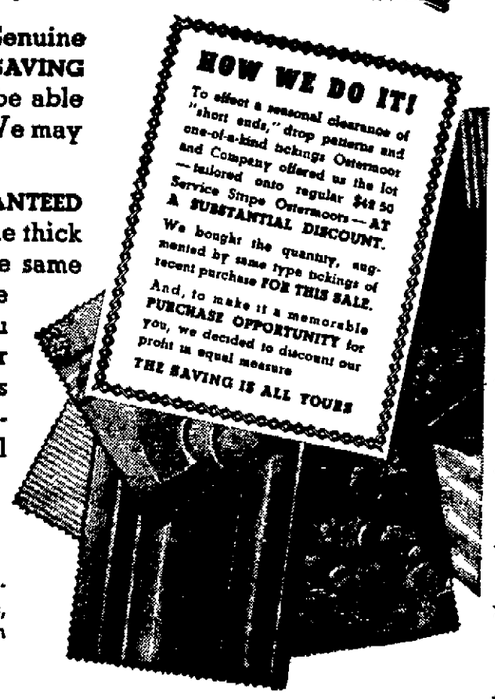
HOW WE DO IT!

To effect a seasonal clearance of "short ends," drop patterns and one-of-a-kind tickings Ostermoor and Company offered us the lot—tailored onto regular $42.50 Service Stripe Ostermoors—AT A SUBSTANTIAL DISCOUNT.

We bought the quantity, augmented by same type tickings of recent purchase FOR THIS SALE.

And, to make it a memorable PURCHASE OPPORTUNITY for you, we decided to discount our profit in equal measure

THE SAVING IS ALL YOURS



FOR 85 YEARS THE NAME TAPE ON THE GENUINE OSTERMOOR HAS PROTECTED YOU FROM SUBSTITUTION

- 9 STAR POINTS OF SUPERIORITY
- ★ Ostermoor Flexible Cable-Coil Innerspring, constructed to give you the very utmost in springiness, is Guaranteed against structural defects.
- ★ Each coil in the Ostermoor Flexible Cable-Coil Innerspring acts independently of other coils, and yet, all coils do act in perfect unison.
- ★ Ostermoor Felt Protection Pad, acts as a soft, flexible foundation for thick layers of Ostermoor Felt, prevents it from packing down between the coils.
- ★ Ostermoor Felt Protection Pad also prevents your ever feeling the springs through the felted cotton.
- ★ Ostermoor Reinforced Side-Border and Ostermoor Flexible Cable "Edge", actually do keep the sides of the Ostermoor neat—smooth—"smart" looking.
- ★ New Style Handles—riveted on—cannot pull out. Easy to reach, easy to grasp. Are scientifically spaced
- ★ Ostermoor Quality Felted Cotton, insures you of the softest kind of a comfortable mattress.
- ★ Actually Air-Ventilated. The moment you lie down on the Ostermoor mattress, fresh air passes through it—inside—from one side to the other.
- ★ Can Be Folded from side to side—or—from end to end, without injury to the spring construction.
